Cardboard Condo How The Homeless Survive The Streets:

Cardboard Condo Robert Greene,2005 This is a book about homeless people What do you feel when you encounter one Fear Pity Revulsion Guilt Indifference Or do you not see them at all In an effort to make the reader see homeless persons as real people each one a separate and unique individual the author has interviewed many of them on the streets and in shelters Most are still homeless while some have managed to re enter society The author wanted to know how they came to be homeless how they survived on the street and for those who have overcome it how they did it The next time you see someone sleeping in a doorway or digging half eaten sandwiches out of a garbage can this book will hopefully make you want to look at them in a different light Homelessness in the 1990's United States. Douglas McCulloh,2009 I won the right to name a street in southern California writes author and photographer Douglas McCulloh This chance win at a charity event launched him into an obsessive relationship with a 134 home subdivision just commencing in southern California s Inland Empire Increasingly captivated with the creation of this new neighborhood he haunted the place he named Dream Street vividly chronicling the lives of builders workers and prospective homebuyers with his camera and tape recorder In Dream Street as the tract of land progresses from an abandoned strawberry field to a jumble of framed houses to a typical suburban neighborhood McCulloh puts a human face on the process that continues to reshape America The name Dream Street he soon discovers belies reality for those building the home most of whom are poorly trained and paid and for those flocking to open house events hoping to buy McCulloh s timely and captivating work illuminates the history and fate of Dream Streets everywhere Book Jacket International Development Planning

Review ,2006 Family Dynamics, Gender and Social Inequality During COVID-19 Nina Weimann-Sandig,Ronald Lutz,2024-03-11 This book critically analyzes both the negative and positive impacts of the Coronavirus pandemic focusing on changes in families gender developments and the evolution of social inequality structures The Corona pandemic with its unprecedented restrictions on contact has meant that families have been challenged in their functioning in a very special way International studies show that socioeconomic factors such as education income but also the geographic center of life of families and women in particular had an important influence on the management of the pandemic Despite all negative side effects of the Corona pandemic there were nevertheless also innovative impulses especially in the field of social work particularly work with families The book s 18 chapters organized in six sections highlight not only short term changes but also longer term developments that either require a corresponding concept of measures or action or can be evaluated as drivers of innovation in the pandemic Part I Introduction Part II Family Dynamics Part III Child Well being Part IV Social Work with Children and Families Part V Gender and COVID 19 Part VI Conclusion The special feature of the volume is its global perspective Authors from different countries describe changes and developments on these topics and make clear what profound effects the pandemic had on families social inequality structures and gender specific situations The anthology does not comprehensively reflect international perspectives Rather it leaves it up to readers to compare the developments in the respective countries with their own country of origin from a comparative cultural perspective In this way ideas for future overarching research projects may be stimulated Family Dynamics Gender and Social Inequality During COVID 19 is timely and relevant reading for scientists students and practitioners in sociology social work and political science The Cast-off Recast Timothy Corrigan Correll, Patrick Arthur Polk, 1999 On a daily basis remnants scraps and rubbish are filtered through formal and informal salvage operations in urban centers throughout the world The essays included in this volume explore the process of recycling within distinct environments Shelter for the Homeless United Nations Centre for Human Settlements, 1988 The Missing Piece Harold "Bud" Boughton, 2003 The author uses the analogy of a missing puzzle piece to explore how one can find a sense of security in a chaotic hectic and insecure world The New York Times Index, 1997 Africa Events, 1989 SAIS Review, 2003 Caroline Rose Mary Triola, 2002-11 Kate O'Brien is a young research assistant with dreams of becoming a writer But the determination needed to follow that dream is lacking until she meets Caroline Rose a charming homeless woman with a shadowy past An elegant and cheerful woman Caroline challenges all of the stereotypes of the homeless and baffles Kate with her positive attitude even in her seemingly desperate situation
