Caribbean Economic Development The First:

Caribbean Economic Development Stanley Lalta, Marie Freckleton, 1993 A collection of essays by Caribbean scholars on the development experience of the English speaking Caribbean countries with an emphasis on policy oriented analyses and alternative development strategies Explores such issues as import substitution regional integration self reliance and State led development and structural adjustment Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 Patterns of Caribbean Development Jay Mandle, 2010-11-26 First published in 1982 this study attempts to put contemporary Caribbean development into historical perspective By first constructing a Marxist framework for the study of development Jay Mandle assesses the reasons why the region emerged underdeveloped and evaluates post world war two efforts to overcome the legacy of poverty through a strategy of industrialization through invitation Identifying the reasons why a Marxist framework yielded results which were unsatisfactory the author then explores the requirements which must be met for a more reliable study of the Caribbean s economic development Case studies of Cuba Jamaica Guyana Trinidad and Tobago examine the extent to which these requirements have been met Development in Suspense Norman Girvan, George L. Beckford, 1989

Economic Development of Caricom Winston H. Griffith, 2021-10-12 The early pioneers of development attributed the poor economic and social conditions in less developed nations to cultural and environmental elements Some argued that their small size was also a contributing element In the latter decades of the twentieth century proponents of the neoclassical counterrevolution shifted the focus to the dirigiste policies of governments Taking a heterodox approach however this study argues that the persistent low level of development in CARICOM nations is due to their being utilized as global agricultural and manufacturing production platforms their enduring colonial economic and social structures that have slowed down economic transformation the negative attitudes of classes the anti development policies of some governments and since the human element provides the motor forces that ultimately drive development their failure to accumulate an adequate pool of knowledge skills that are now dominating production processes in the new global economy Comparative Education Carlos Alberto Torres, Robert F. Arnove, 2007-09-16 Comparative Education The Dialectic of the Global and the Local Third Edition brings together many of the outstanding scholars in the field of comparative and international education to provide new perspectives on the dynamic interplay of global national and local forces as they shape the functioning and outcomes of education systems in specific contexts Various chapters in the book call for a rethinking of the nation state as the basic unit for analyzing school society relations provide new ways of conceptualizing equality of educational opportunity and outcomes call attention to the need to study social movements in relation to educational reform emphasize the value of feminist postcolonial and culturally sensitive perspectives to comparative inquiry into the limitations as well as potential of education systems to contribute to individual development and social change and provide detailed critical accounts of how various international financial and technical assistance agencies shape educational policy and practice in specific regions of the world Persistent Underdevelopment Jay Mandle,2010-11-26 First published in 1996 this insightful and informative text examines the post emancipation and recent economic history of the Commonwealth Caribbean Jay R Mandle offers an explanation of the region s continuing underdevelopment Through the use of an analytical framework derived from the works of Marx and Kuznets the book focuses attention on technological change as the driving force behind economic modernization Persistent Underdevelopment begins by exploring how plantation agriculture had a limiting effect on industrial growth Ultimately plantation dominance receded technological stagnation continued however and under British colonial policy the Caribbean failed to modernise The post World War II era brought new efforts at modernisation through the economic policies of the left regimes of Manley Burnham and Bishop The concluding chapters point the way to policies that would enable the Caribbean to escape its current poverty and become an effective participant in world markets finally achieving the goal of modern economic development

Globalization and Education Nelly P. Stromquist,Karen Monkman,2000-09-06 The effects of globalization have long been dealt with in terms of economic and technological consequences but what about the influence on education Though still not a precise concept what we understand as OglobalizationO is bringing forth numerous and profound changes in the economic cultural and political life of nations With increased opportunities for interaction and learning education around the world is rapidly becoming transformed The essays contained in this comprehensive yet readable book strive to provide a thorough examination of the impact these changes are having on how education is defined whom it serves and how it is assessed around the world Globalization and Education is organized into three sections The first addresses conceptual and theoretical issues underlying such notions as globalization internationalization and multilateralism The second presents empirical data from various contries and provides examples of shifts and transformations within a specific level or modality of the educational system The third looks at the totality of educational changes taking the nation as the unit of analysis

Saint Lucia Business Law Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Basic Laws IBP, Inc, Comparative Education Robert F. Arnove,Carlos Alberto Torres,2003 Bringing together some of the leading names in comparative and international education this second edition provides new perspectives on the dynamic interplay of global national and local forces as they shape education systems in specific contexts
