Caring For Emotional Needs:

Caring for Emotional Needs Phyllis J. Le Peau, 1991-01-01 Lippincott's Textbook for Nursing Assistants Pamela J. Carter, 2007-06-01 Now in its Second Edition this textbook prepares students to work as nursing assistants in long term care acute care and home health care settings and provides a firm foundation for advancement to an LPN and ultimately an RN role The book is written in a direct conversational writing style with an emphasis on professionalism and humanism This edition is significantly updated and has new photographs and illustrations A front of book CD ROM includes an audio glossary An audiobook version of the entire text in MP3 format is available as a separate purchase A student edition DVD containing selected procedures from Lippincott's Video Series for Nursing Assistants is also available as a separate purchase

Care Poverty and Unmet Needs Teppo Kröger, Nicola Brimblecombe, Ricardo Rodrigues, Kirstein Rummery, 2025-05-23 Available open access digitally under CC BY NC ND licence As populations age around the world there is an urgent need to address the inadequate and unequal provision of care and support to older and disabled people This book represents the first collective effort to use the concept of care poverty to analyse unmet needs and inequalities in care at an international level and from a social policy perspective It presents pioneering empirical studies and novel theoretical and methodological approaches to unmet needs and care poverty This volume points the way forward for international care research and in particular for the growing field of research on inadequate care and support

Caring for Emotional Needs Phyllis J. Le Peau, 1991 Caring for Emotional Needs is one of eight titles in the Caring People Bible Studies series which deals with all the basics of caregiving

Health and Social Care Angela Fisher, 2005 The comprehensive in depth coverage makes this the only book students will need to pass this new award The authors have worked closely with OCR on the development of the course so they fully understand the OCR national requirements

Intermediate Health and Social Care Neil Moonie, 2000 This text covers the compulsory units and four option units for Edexcel GNVQ Health and Social Care Intermediate It covers investigating common hazards and emergencies planning diets exploring recreational activities and exploring physical care

Health Care Needs Assessment Andrew Stevens, James Raftery, 1997 This is a survey of health care needs for specific conditions published on behalf of the Department of Health This study considers questions such as the population's needs the services available or unavailable to them the effectiveness of these services and other perspectives in disease and service areas This is the second series of needs assessment reviews

The Importance of the Level of Care for Personal Services Hans-Peter Sattler, 2025-09-26 In the present slightly revised dissertation the importance of individual care intensity is examined from the perspective of the hotel specific service of attending to hotel guests This involves analyzing how culture historical industry developments and training relevant skills and behaviors have influenced the evolution of hotel specific services Based on the research question What significance does care intensity have for the provision of personal services the aim is to understand using the example of hotel specific personal guest care in hotels the value it should have for guest loyalty and the quality of relationships between hotel guests hotel employees and the hotel operation The results include on the one hand a reassessment of personal guest care as a hotel specific service and the establishment of the Guest Quadrant as a holistic guest care model and on the other hand the opportunity for hotel employees owners and or operators to diagnose the individual care intensity of hotel guests from the perspective of Guest Centricity and Guest Care using proposed skills calculation methods and assessment tools

Analyses on Health Status and Care Needs among Older Adults

Jian Sun,Hongye Luo, Yi Zeng,2025-09-12 Globally a shift in population structures and disease spectrum is inevitable The latest global burden of disease study revealed that the average healthy life expectancy has steadily increased from 1990 to 2019 worldwide However there is a concerning trend in which the growth in healthy life expectancy is lower than the growth in life expectancy in 198 out of 204 countries evaluated This implies that people spend more time in sub optimal health despite living longer Moreover non communicable diseases contribute an increasingly significant portion of the disease burden in low and middle income countries growing from one third to almost two thirds from 1990 to 2019 This mainly results from preventable risk factors It is important to approach aging with a positive outlook This entails guaranteeing sufficient medical care and proactively managing health issues in older adults Importantly since several diseases are often irreversible prevention is key Social and psychological factors due to their nebulous harm have struggled to gain attention over a long period We should aim to make the additional years gained during old age as healthful as those in other life stages
