Caring In An Unjust World

Melissa L. Caldwell

Caring In An Unjust World:

Living Faithfully in an Unjust World Melissa L. Caldwell, 2017 What does it mean to be a compassionate caring person in Russia which has become a country of stark income inequalities and political restrictions How might ethics and practices of kindness constitute a mode of civic participation in which doing good helping caring for and loving one another in a world marked by many problems and few easy solutions is a necessary part of being an active citizen Living Faithfully in an Unjust World explores how following the retreat of the Russian state from social welfare services Russians efforts to do the right thing for their communities have forged new modes of social justice and civic engagement Through vivid ethnography based on twenty years of research within a thriving Moscow based network of religious and secular charitable service providers Melissa L Caldwell examines how community members care for a broad range of Russia s population in Moscow and beyond through programs that range from basic health services to human rights advocacy As the experiences of assistance workers government officials recipients and supporters reveal their work and beliefs are shaped by a practical philosophy of goodness and kindness Despite the hardships these individuals witness on a regular basis there is a pervasive sense of optimism that human kindness will prevail over poverty injury and injustice Ultimately what connects members of this diverse group is a shared belief that caring for others is not simply a practical matter or an idealistic vision but a project of faith and hope Together care seekers and care givers destabilize and remake the meaning of faith and faith based by putting into practice a vision of humanitarianism that transcends the boundaries between state and private religious and secular A Caring Society? MICHAEL D. FINE, 2018-07-09 In the twenty first century characterized by population aging family fragmentation and the entry of women into the paid workforce caring has become a major public issue This book offers a comparative analysis of the sociology philosophy and emergent practices of care in the context of the political economy of post industrial societies How Do They Know You Care? Linda L. Lyman, 2000-01-01 Enter the real life world of decision making in a school community and experience how caring leadership inspires and enhances the learning of students and teachers Explore what we know the theory and research about caring leadership in K 12 schools and the dilemmas and possibilities of school leadership grounded in caring Filled with fascinating turns and complex questions this book invites readers to become stronger and more fully themselves as caring persons and professionals Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study Human Rights and the Care of the Self Alexandre Lefebvre, 2018-04-19 When we think of human rights we assume that they are meant to protect people from serious social legal and political abuses and to advance global justice In Human Rights and the Care of the Self Alexandre Lefebvre turns this assumption on its head showing how the value of human rights also lies in enabling ethical practices of self transformation Drawing on Foucault's notion of care of the self Lefebvre turns to some of the most celebrated authors and activists in the history of human rights such as Mary Wollstonecraft Henri Bergson Eleanor Roosevelt and Charles Malik to discover a vision of human rights as a tool for individuals to work on improve and transform themselves for their own sake This new perspective allows us to appreciate a crucial dimension of human rights one that can help us to care for ourselves in light of pressing social and psychological problems such as loneliness fear hatred patriarchy meaninglessness boredom and indignity

Rights to Health Care Thomas J. Bole III, W.B. Bondeson, 2007-08-23 Human existence is marked by pain limitation disability disease suffering and death These facts of life and of death give ample grounds for characterizing much of the human condition as unfortunate A core philosophical question is whether the circumstances are in addition unfair or unjust in the sense of justifying claims on the resources time and abilities of others The temptation to use the languages of rights and of justice is und standable Faced with pain disability and death it seems natural to complain that someone should do something this is unfair or it just isn't right that people should suffer this way Yet it is one thing to complain about the unfairness of another's actions and another thing to complain about the unfairness of biological or physical processes If no one is to blame for one's illness disability or death in what sense are one's unfortunate circumstances unfair or unjust How can claims against others for aid and support arise if no one has caused the unfortunate state of affairs To justify the languages of fights to health care or justice in health care requires showing why particular unfortunate circumstances are also unfair in the sense of demanding the labors of others It requires understanding as well the limits of property claims After all claims regarding justice in health care or about fights to health care limit the property fights of those whose resources will be used to provide care

Caring in an Unjust World Deborah Eaker-Rich, Jane A. Van Galen, 1996-01-04 Looks at the ways in which social structures and relationships within schools define enable or constrain an ethic of caring especially for historically marginalized groups of students

Dimensions of Caring Tamara P. Lindsey, 1998

Justice in an Unjust World Karen Lebacqz, 1987-11-06 Have we heard the cry for justice that rises from humanity suffering from varieties of injustice economic sexual political cultural verbal Or what is more have Christians on occasion knowingly or unknowingly acquiesced in or even contributed to injustice By means of powerful and dramatic use of biblical images and models Dr Lebacqz sets before us the justice of God and God's call for us to heed the cry of the suffering and to work for justice in an unjust world

Studies in word-association; experiments in the diagnosis of Carl Gustav Jung, 1918

Caring as Tenacity Mary Anne Pitman, Debbie Zorn, 2000 The impact of an ethic of care or its absence is the focus of the schooling stories that make up this volume The case studies examine the interconnected level of daily behaviour describing relationships within various urban school support programmes

Studies in Word-association Carl Gustav Jung, 1918 This book is a translation of a series of papers on the results of the association method applied to normal and abnormal persons which appeared in the Journal für Psychologie und Neurologie vols III XVI and were afterwards collected into two volumes International Encyclopedia of Public Health William C Cockerham,2016-10-06 International Encyclopedia of Public Health Second Edition Seven Volume Set is an authoritative and comprehensive guide to the major issues challenges methods and approaches of global public health Taking a multidisciplinary approach this new edition combines complementary scientific fields of inquiry linking biomedical research with the social and life sciences to address the three major themes of public health research disease health processes and disciplines This book helps readers solve real world problems in global and local health through a multidisciplinary and comprehensive approach Covering all dimensions of the field from the details of specific diseases to the organization of social insurance agencies the articles included cover the fundamental research areas of health promotion economics and epidemiology as well as specific diseases such as cancer cardiovascular diseases diabetes and reproductive health Additional articles on the history of public health global issues research priorities and health and human rights make this work an indispensable resource for students health researchers and practitioners alike Provides the most comprehensive high level internationally focused reference work available on public health Presents an invaluable resource for both researchers familiar with the field and non experts requiring easy to find relevant global information and a greater understanding of the wider issues Contains interdisciplinary coverage across all aspects of public health Incorporates biomedical and health social science issues and perspectives Includes an international focus with contributions from global domain experts providing a complete picture of public health issues

The Dome of Silence Sandra Kirby,Lorraine Greaves,Olena Hankinsky,2000 This book frames the issue of sexual harassment and abuse in sports within the context of existing research on sexual violence and within the ethic of care a direction the authors believe sport organizations should adopt This book investigates sexual violence in sport and examines its underlying values This is carried out in the context of contemporary experiences of a number of athletes Issues covered include the emphasis on competition compulsory heterosexuality and patriotism

Bulletproof Vests Vs. The Ethic of Care Denise Smith,2003-02-04 Too often teachers and students experience violence directly and feel unsafe in their school environment which diverts energy and resources from classroom instruction Solutions to this ongoing problem include the installation of warning devices metal detectors and surveillance cameras but none of these methods have proven sufficient The primary focus of this book is on teaching practices that promote safe and nonviolent educational environments for children in schools These practices are based on a systematic review recently conducted by the U S Surgeon General and the U S Secret Service Specific attention is devoted to teaching practices that reflect Noddings s theory of the ethics of care as well as Bronfenbrenner s ecological model For teacher educators in K 12 schools and universities and inservice general and special education teachers
