Candida Hofer The Monograph:

Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Michael Krüger, 2003 Candida Hofer , Candida Hofer Candida Höfer, 2013

Candida Höfer Gunda Luyken, Beat Wismer, 2013 Candida Höfer like Andreas Gursky Thomas Ruff and Thomas Struth belongs to the first generation that graduated from Bernd and Hilla Becher's photo class at the Arts Academy in Düsseldorf. Following her studies Höfer has kept a respectful distance from the motifs that she finds in her immediate environs or on her countless trips whether these are single objects architectural spaces or people. The photographs of public spaces almost devoid of people interiors libraries museums or entrance halls are marked by cool objectivity and the precise capturing of details as well as by the transforming systems that organise the architecture. Whereby the use and incidence of light lends the single objects an almost painterly quality an indeed magical presence. This publication of new and older work from the past four decades is devoted especially to the works that she produced at sites in Düsseldorf since her time at the Arts Academy and especially since 2011.

Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Galleri K (Oslo, Norway), 2009 Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Doreen Mende, Markus Heinzmann, 2009. address the broader themes and underlying discourses of recent studies in migration and culture Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Constance White Glenn, Mary-Kay Lombino, Virginia Heckert, 2004 Architecture of Absence examines Höfer's unique oeuvre and the relationship of her architecture work to that of the Becher Circle noted students of the Dusseldorf Academy's renowned professor Bernd Becher including Thomas Ruff Thomas Struth Andreas Gursky and Axel Hutte Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, 2001 Photographs by Candida Höfer Text by Pascal Beausse Annette Haudiquet Candida Höfer, Weimarer Räume Gerda Wendermann, Wulf Kirsten, 2007 Libraries Umberto Eco, 2019-09-03 This striking book shows the world's most beautiful libraries through Candida Höfer's mesmerizing photographs No one has captured better the majesty stillness and eloquence of libraries Traveling around the world Höfer shows the exquisite beauty to be found in order repetition and form rows of books lines of desks soaring shelves and even stacks of paper create patterns that are both hypnotic and soothing Photographed with a large format camera and a small aperture these razor sharp images of the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York the Escorial in Spain Villa Medici in Rome the Hamburg University library the Bibliothèque Nationale de France in Paris and the Museo Archeologico in Madrid to name a few communicate more than just the superb architecture Glowing with subtle color and natural light Höfer's photographs while devoid of people shimmer with life and remind us again and again that libraries are more than just repositories for books Umberto Eco's essay about his own attachment to libraries is the perfect introduction to an otherwise wordless but sublimely reverent journey American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Women Photographers Boris Friedewald, 2014 This introduction to the greatest women photographers from the 19th century to today features the most important works of 60 artists along with in depth biographical and critical assessments Portfolio, 2001 Art on Paper, 2004 Candida Höfer, Martin Kippenberger Candida Höfer, Martin Kippenberger, Julian Heynen, 2003 Essay by Julian
