

BELIEVE

I believe in miracles
and snow white turtle doves.
I believe in rainbows
and I believe in love.

I believe in healing hands
and the purring of a kitten.
I believe in gentle rains
and love poems neatly written.

I believe there is a hope
within each aching heart.
And I believe God wants to help
if we'll just do our part.

I believe your heart can feel
what I am speaking of.
For I believe we're one in God
and share his eternal love.

Canvas Poems:

canvas James Morehead, 2021-06-15 James Morehead's Canvas opens itself to the poetry of everyday life where stanzas are etched in sand and poems end in sunset. Combining micro narratives of Boston bullies cornering a young boy with minute descriptions of time in quarantine, it draws us into moving tableaux of tenacious attention to what went down, what might come up, and where we might find ourselves. These are poems to be savored, re-read, kept handy for those times when only poetry will do. W. J. T. MITCHELL, Senior Editor of Critical Inquiry and Gaylord Donnelley Distinguished Service Professor, English and Art History, University of Chicago. In his debut collection, James Morehead paints powerful images of life, love, and loss through the thoughtful selection and careful placement of words. Canvas features the extraordinary art of Kari Byron and Alla Tsank. The year 2020 and its pandemic-induced solitude inspired the poems that lead this collection. Most are autobiographical; in particular, the title poem Canvas and collectively form a fragmented memoir of memories and melancholy. Some are fanciful, like tethered, inspired by a fleeting image seen while hiking the Pacific coastline. All strive to paint images in the reader's mind through the power of poetry. James creates an enchanting melody of poetic sound for the reader, page after page. He notices life's details with a tender yet precise eye, down to the streets glistening with midnight rain and summer bursting outwards, fierce from its slumber. Using this keen observation, James breaks past life's routines to uncover gems of beauty. To read Canvas is to be transported to a world infused with meaning and memory. Morgan Liphart, author of Barefoot and Running.

Lines from a Canvas Jacob Miller, 2016 Lines from a Canvas offers the public one of the best-kept secrets in the world of poetry for years: the work of Jacob Miller. His poems uniquely traverse the cultural territory from Homer to the Grateful Dead, taking the reader from ancient Greece and Rome to the Holocaust to the Cold War to Vietnam to 9/11. In short, the expansive Canvas of his content presents a compelling spectrum, mixing classical and modern brushstrokes all while exploring experiences of love and loss, isolation and separation, as well as mortality. Consistent with his content, though perhaps of even greater importance, the crowning achievement shown in this collection is Jacob Miller's new poetic technique, which delivers the reader to an expertly constructed and long-needed bridge between classical traditions such as rhyme and meter or even hidden slant rhymes or assonance connections and imagistic free verse. Additionally, this collection contains the poet's free-verse libretto to the modern opera Manhattan in Charcoal, recently released on CD. The title poem Lines from a Canvas offers the point of view of a canvas, not the painter, and this launches the operative conceit in this collection: each poem explores the perspective of the canvas of life and death, more than the poet himself. Each poem truly brings something new to the page.
