Birmingham's Industrial Heritage Ray Shill,2003-10-17 Birmingham was a renowned manufacturing centre by the 18th century and the city rapidly grew into the primary industrial centre of the Midlands An account of Birmingham s heyday of heavy industry is recorded and the story is brought up to date with the story of the decline of heavy industry and its subsequent replacement by design technology and computing The proposed redevelopment of Rover s Longbridge site as a science park is symptomatic of this change The Gun Trade of Birmingham. A Short Historical Note, Etc. understood the Industrial Revolution as a triumphant story of innovation and technology Empire of Guns a rich and ambitious new book by award winning historian Priya Satia upends this conventional wisdom by placing war and Britain s prosperous gun trade at the heart of the Industrial Revolution and the state s imperial expansion Satia brings to life this bustling industrial society with the story of a scandal Samuel Galton of Birmingham one of Britain s most prominent gunmakers has been condemned by his fellow Quakers who argue that his profession violates the society s pacifist principles In his fervent self defense Galton argues that the state s heavy reliance on industry for all of its war needs means that every member of the British industrial economy is implicated in Britain s near constant state of war Empire of Guns uses the story of Galton and the gun trade from Birmingham to the outermost edges of the British empire to illuminate the nation s emergence as a global superpower the roots of the state s role in economic development and the origins of our era s debates about gun control and the military industrial complex that thorny partnership of government the economy and the military Through Satia s eyes we acquire a radically new understanding of this critical historical moment and all that followed from it Sweeping in its scope and entirely original in its approach Empire of Guns is a masterful new work of history a rigorous historical argument with a human story at its heart
