Birth Of Intimacy Privacy And Domestic Life In Early Modern Paris:

The Birth of Intimacy Annik Pardailhé-Galabrun, 1991 This lively book examines the origins of intimacy and domestic life in early modern France Focusing on Paris in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the author traces the development of ideas such as sociability comfort and the home

The Oxford Handbook of the Ancien Régime William Doyle, 2012 An exploration of current scholarly thinking about the wide and surprisingly complex range of historical problems associated with the study of Ancien Régime Europe

I Hope I Don't Intrude David Vincent, 2015 Taking his title from the catch phrase of the eponymous hero of the 1825 play Paul Pry a huge success in London New York and around the English speaking world David Vincent explores the worlds of privacy and celebrity in 19th century Britain examining debates about mass communication and state surveillance that link to today's concerns

Privacy David Vincent, 2016-02-29 Privacy A Short History provides a vital historical account of an increasingly stressed sphere of human interaction At a time when the death of privacy is widely proclaimed distinguished historian David Vincent describes the evolution of the concept and practice of privacy from the Middle Ages to the present controversy over digital communication and state surveillance provoked by the revelations of Edward Snowden Deploying a range of vivid primary material he discusses the management of private information in the context of housing outdoor spaces religious observance reading diaries and autobiographies correspondence neighbours gossip surveillance the public sphere and the state Key developments such as the nineteenth century celebration of the enclosed and intimate middle class household are placed in the context of long term development The book surveys and challenges the main currents in the extensive secondary literature on the subject It seeks to strike a new balance between the built environment and world beyond the threshold between written and face to face communication between anonymity and familiarity in towns and cities between religion and secular meditation between the state and the private sphere and above all between intimacy and individualism Ranging from the fourteenth century to the twenty first this book shows that the history of privacy has been an arena of contested choices and not simply a progression towards a settled ideal Privacy A Short History will be of interest to students and scholars of history and all those interested in this topical subject

Artists' Things Katie Scott, Hannah Williams, 2024-01-09 Histories of artists' personal possessions shed new light on the lives of their owners Artists are makers of things Yet it is a measure of the disembodied manner in which we generally think about artists that we rarely consider the everyday items they own This innovative book looks at objects that once belonged to artists revealing not only the fabric of the eighteenth century art world in France but also unfamiliar and sometimes unexpected insights into the individuals who populated it including Jean Antoine Watteau François Boucher Jean Baptiste Greuze and Elisabeth Vigée LeBrun From the curious to the mundane from the useful to the symbolic these items have one thing in common they have all been eclipsed from historical view Some of the objects still exist like Jean Honor Fragonard's color box and Jacques Louis David's table Others survive only in paintings such as Jean Siméon Chardin's cistern in his Copper Drinking Fountain or in documents like François Lemoyne's sword the instrument of his suicide Several were literally lost including pastelist Jean Baptiste Perronneau's pencil case In this fascinating book the authors engage with fundamental historical debates about production consumption and sociability through the lens of material goods owned by artists The free online edition of this open access publication is at www.getty.edu/publications/artists/things and includes zoomable illustrations Free PDF and EPUB downloads of the book are also available

The Medical World of Early Modern France L. W. B. Brockliss, Colin Jones, 1997 The Medical World of Early Modern France recounts the history of medicine in France between the sixteenth century and the French Revolution Physicians surgeons and apothecaries are centre stage and the study provides an overview of long term changes in their ideas about medicine and their craft Other denizens of the medical world quacks charlatans wise women midwives herbalist and others are also brought into the analysis which is set within the broader context of social economic demographic and cultural change The breadth of the chronological and analytical framework and the depth of the archival research behind it makes this a unique account of the evolution of medical ideas and practices in one of the major countries of early modern Europe

Gender, Taste, and Material Culture in Britain and North America, 1700-1830 John Styles, Amanda Vickery, 2006 Between 1700 and 1830 men and women in the English speaking territories framing the Atlantic gained unprecedented access to material things The British Atlantic was an empire of goods held together not just by political authority and a common language but by a shared material culture nourished by constant flows of commodities Diets expanded to include exotic luxuries such as tea and sugar the fruits of mercantile and colonial expansion Homes were furnished with novel goods like clocks and earthenware teapots the products of British industrial ingenuity This groundbreaking book compares these developments in Britain and North America bringing together a multi disciplinary group of scholars to consider basic questions about women men and objects in these regions In asking who did the shopping how things were used and why they became the subject of political dispute the essays show the profound significance of everyday objects in the eighteenth century Atlantic world

Luxury Trades and Consumerism in Ancien Régime Paris Robert Fox, Anthony John Turner, 1998 Since the 16th century Paris has been a leading arbiter of taste and the ultimate source of luxury goods for Europe and the world However the origins of these luxury trades and their wider impact have been little examined This book presents eight case studies of specific trades with five more wide ranging and theoretical contributions These papers analyse the interplay of technical and economic factors which contributed to their growth and the roles of patronage and consumerism stimulating it

Everyday Life and Consumer Culture in Eighteenth-Century Damascus James Grehan, 2007 Draws on court records and the city's dazzling literary tradition to explore the material culture of premodern Damascus and provides an unusual and intimate account of the choices constraints and compromises that defined consumer behavior

Patronage in Sixteenth- and Seventeenth-century France Sharon Kettering, 2002 The dual themes of this volume are the characteristics of patronage relationships and their political uses in early modern France The first essays provide an overview of the scholarly literature and suggest that the obligatory reciprocity of the patron client exchange was a defining characteristic The third and fourth essays compare patronage relationships with kinship and friendship while the following two focus on the patronage role of noblewomen Professor Kettering then looks at the role of brokerage in state formation in early modern France comparing this with other early modern societies In the final section she explores the role of patronage in the religious wars of the late 16th century and in the civil war of the Fronde a half century later and the ways in which it was affected by the changing lifestyles of the great nobles during the late 17th century

Selected Philosophical and Scientific Writings marquise Gabrielle Emilie Le Tonnelier de Breteuil Du Châtelet, 2009-09 Emilie Du Châtelet was an accomplished scientific and philosophical writer whose contribution to French intellectual life in the first half of the 18th century has long been obscured by her association with Voltaire This volume of her writings will help re establish a reputation that has long been overshadowed

Paris Frances Chambers, 1998 A comprehensive bibliography of the French capital Includes sections on geography guidebooks history economy literature and intellectual life politics the arts architecture and urban planning and mass media The history arts and literature sections take up the bulk of the text Most cited works were published after 1970 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Meditations on the Incarnation, Passion, and Death of Jesus Christ Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg, 2009-06 Read by Protestants and Catholics alike Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg 1633-94 was the foremost German woman poet and writer in the seventeenth century German speaking world Privileged by her social station and education she published a large body of religious writings under her own name to a reception unequalled by any other German woman during her lifetime But once the popularity of devotional writings as a genre waned Catharina's works went largely unread until scholars devoted renewed attention to them in the twentieth century For this volume Lynne Tatlock translates for the first time into English three of the thirty six meditations restoring Catharina to her rightful place in print These meditations foreground women in the life of Jesus Christ including accounts of women at the Incarnation and the Tomb and in Scripture in general Tatlock's selections give the modern reader a sense of the structure and nature of Catharina's devotional writings highlighting the alternative they offer to the male centered view of early modern literary and cultural production during her day and redefining the role of women in Christian history
