Begin. To the Faithful in Christ Jesus, the Priests and Deacons, and the Lay Members of the Church of Christ in Communion with the Anglican Branch of the Church Catholic. [Address of the Bishops of the Anglican Communion.] Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion, 1867 (LAMBETH PALACE), 1867 Unity in Christ Anthony Fisher, 2023-10-02 What does episcopal fraternity and communio look like This central question is explored through the erudition and experience of Archbishop Anthony Fisher Catholic Archbishop of Sydney Australia Unity in Christ based upon a series of addresses given to the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops USCCB at their Special Assembly in 2022 delves into the themes associated with episcopal unity By surveying the Christian tradition beginning with the scriptures and then through various periods Apostolic generation patristic scholastic Vatican II recent post Vatican II developments such as synodality a coherent picture of episcopal togetherness is presented What becomes clear is that unity among Christ s disciples and their successors is not simply an ideal but rather a constitutive element of their office They are called to love as Christ loved expressed above all through genuine friendship with one another The consequences of this fraternity and communio have implications in areas such as spirituality preaching and fraternal correction among others This second feature the implications of episcopal fraternity and communio are explored through Archbishop Fisher s twenty years of experience as a bishop of the Catholic Church By providing concrete examples of lived episcopal fraternity and communio Fisher offers a glimpse into both the challenges and fruits of living out Christ s call that they might all be one Jn 17 21

Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion, Holden at Lambeth Palace July 6 to August 5, 1908 Church of England, 1908 Bishop Seabury's Communion-office, a sermon Samuel Hart, 1886 Holy and Living Sacrifice Catholic Church. National Conference of Catholic Bishops, 1985 Ever Ancient, Ever New John Raphael Quinn, 2013 Archbishop John R Quinn takes a look at the problem of excessive centralization in the Catholic Church a problem acknowledged by theological giants such as Yves Congar and Joseph Ratzinger Using the Eastern Churches as an example he suggests a return to truly traditional structures as the solution to the problem back cover Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion, 1920 The Letters of Bishop Basil of Caesarea: Instruments of Communion Silouan Fotineas, 2018 As its title suggest this thesis will explore the letters of Bishop Basil of Caesarea as instruments of communion In particular I will examine how Basil used his letters as instruments for arriving at maintaining and expressing communion within a pro Nicene church For Basil the divinity of the Father Son and Holy Spirit was affirmed best through doxological worship and had ecclesiastical communion as its lasting expression Basil s letters became the instruments through which he nurtured the fulfilment of his ecclesiological vision of the church as communion His pastoral and theological message although often set in an individual and local setting persistently upheld a social and universal outlook expressed in terms of the church s communion He insisted that the most fervent relationship with God involves communion with human persons as well Personal being within the church is intrinsically relational and communal When Christians are united in communion with God through partaking of the Eucharist in any given worshipping community they are united without division and without confusion with all believers and across all periods of time Basil not only addressed and communicated with people from various walks of life but also became a voice for them as well Whether letters were addressed to clergy magistrates civil or military officials ascetics youth widows friends or congregations they found their way to being copied and circulated amongst the faithful and proved to be foundational in bringing into communion the churches of the East Basil regarded maintaining and expressing communion as of the highest importance for the ministry of the bishop The act of letterwriting between bishops facilitated their being in communion within the Nicene church and when required served as proof of this communion through establishing a canon of communion Amongst Nicene bishops an affirmation of a creed in writing became the guarantor of a bishop s communion and a sign of his collegiality with all other bishops The collective voice of the bishops on issues of faith doctrine and morals was essential not only to safeguard the church s communion but also to enhance its accessibility As instruments of communion Basil s letters reveal what he understood as the characteristics of ecclesial communion This thesis concludes that key characteristics of communion for Basil are that it be Eucharistic in the Spirit and in Christ Trinitarian inspired by the New Testament traditional nicene episcopal ascetical institutional identifying with the poor catholic accessible and safeguarded mutually responsible doing God s will and beneficial Abstract Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion ,1908 Bishop Seabury's Communion-office Samuel Seabury,1883 Holy
