Bitter Smell Of Almonds Selected Ficti:

The Bitter Smell of Almonds Arnošt Lustig, 2001 For the first time Arnošt Lustig's short story collections Street of Lost Brothers and Indecent Dreams and his novel Dita Saxova are brought together in an omnibus edition. As with all of Lustig's works, these tales reverberate with themes of loss and contradiction with the torments of suffering and survival. In The Bitter Smell of Almonds, Lustig asks questions as old and as universal as humankind's search for the meaning of existence, and his characters often juxtaposed against people or situations they cannot comprehend, attempt to come to terms with the unthinkable and with life itself.

Holocaust Novelists Efraim Sicher, 2004 Contains entries on 51 writers of Holocaust fiction, each entry by a different author including a list of the published works of each writer, biographical information, and a brief analysis of the writings.

Child of a Turbulent Century Victor Erlich, 2006-08-22 Victor Erlich was born in 1914 at the threshold of what the great Russian poet Anna Akhmatova called the real twentieth century in Petrograd, a place indelibly marked by that century's violent dislocations and upheavals. His story begins on the eve of the First World War and takes him through Russia, Poland, Lithuania, Germany, and the U.S. Army. It is in many ways a memoir of that real twentieth century, reflecting its lethal nature and shaped by the fearful symmetry of the age of totalitarianism. To read about Erlich's life growing up at the intersection of the century's darkest currents is to experience history firsthand from the Russian Revolution to the end of the Second World War and to know what it truly is to be a child of the century. Throughout, despite the darkness even the horror of much of what he describes, the author maintains the beguiling tone and the warm manner of one who has reached the new millennium with rare and hard-won insight into the human comedy of his time.
