Rain Taxi Review of Books, 1997 Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2001: Smithsonian Institution United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of the Interior and Related Agencies, 2000 Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2001 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of the Interior and Related Agencies, 2000 International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today. Containing biographies of more than 4,000 contemporary poets world wide, this essential reference work provides truly international coverage. In addition to the well-known poets, talented up-and-coming writers are also profiled. Contents: Each entry provides full career history and publication details. An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners, organizations, magazines, and publishers. A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes. The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets Laureate, Oxford University professors of poetry, poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature, winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry, and of the King's Queen's Gold medal and other poetry prizes. Index of American Periodical Verse, 1997 Hambone, 2002 Thrall Susan Gevirtz, 2007 Poetry Echoing person, place, or thing and adding a question to the definition of a noun. THRALL begs yet another question: is the person a verb or a verb-scape? The poet dreams the poem as three-dimensional things or places that we can enter and touch yet never hold on to. We could try to find an answer to the first sentence of THRALL: is person, place, or person if we were sure it's a question. But I take the book as an enigma; its key word never spoken. Even the guess coming nearest might well land us in decipherment, not a healthy-sounding state. Best, no doubt, to leave all the words as they are and well just listen. It's a beautiful book. Keith Waldrop. Is person, place, or person writes Susan Gevirtz. This provocative statement, it is not a question, leads us through Thrall to the land of Intelexa and outlying realms. If Alice in Wonderland and Wallace Stevens have a daughter here, is her primary residence. She spends each month the chapter of a year drinking of this aquarium water tincture and thereby knowing something happened. Thus reaching for the dictionary, The Reader can hope to find herself in this Looking Glass surrounded by the good neighbors Intellect, Lexicon, Law, and Light, opening into deep communication with sensitive and nervy maps of reading and response, a finely-tuned and attuned charting and exploration of the world of written words. There is no finer dwelling than this. Stacy Doris. Index of American Periodical Verse: 1997 Rafael Català, James D. Anderson, 1999-11-03 The Index is an important resource for contemporary poetry research, serving as a continuing record of trends in the output of famous and lesser-known poets and the cultural influences they represent. The Index includes contemporary poets from the United States, Canada, and the Caribbean, as well as other lands, cultures, and times. Continuing the tradition of this helpful reference source, this twenty-seventh annual volume of the Index was produced with the cooperation of 290 participating periodicals from Canada the United States and the Caribbean More than 7 200 entries for individual poets and translators are included with more than 20 000 entries for individual poems A separate index provides access by title or first line
