Forensic Media Greg Siegel,2014-11-05 In Forensic Media Greg Siegel considers how photographic electronic and digital media have been used to record and reconstruct accidents particularly high speed crashes and catastrophes Focusing in turn on the birth of the field of forensic engineering Charles Babbage s invention of a self registering apparatus for railroad trains flight data and cockpit voice recorders black boxes the science of automobile crash testing and various accident reconstruction techniques and technologies Siegel shows how forensic media work to transmute disruptive chance occurrences into reassuring narratives of causal succession Through historical and philosophical analyses he demonstrates that forensic media are as much technologies of cultural imagination as they are instruments of scientific inscription as imbued with ideological fantasies as they are compelled by institutional rationales By rethinking the historical links and cultural relays between accidents and forensics Siegel sheds new light on the corresponding connections between media technology and modernity
