Black Debt:

Britain's Black Debt Hilary Beckles, 2013 Since the mid nineteenth century abolition of slavery the call for reparations for the crime of African enslavement and native genocide has been growing In the Caribbean grassroots and official voices now constitute a regional reparations movement While it remains a fractured contentious and divisive call it generates considerable public interest especially within sections of the community that are concerned with issues of social justice equity civil and human rights education and cultural identity The reparations discourse has been shaped by the voices from these fields as they seek to build a future upon the settlement of historical crimes This is the first scholarly work that looks comprehensively at the reparations discussion in the Caribbean Written by a leading economic historian of the region a seasoned activist in the wider movement for social justice and advocacy of historical truth Britain's Black Debt looks at the origins and development of reparations as a regional and international process Weaving detailed historical data on Caribbean slavery and the transatlantic slave trade together with legal principles and the politics of postcolonialism Beckles sets out a solid academic analysis of the evidence He concludes that Britain has a case of reparations to answer which the Caribbean should litigate International law provides that chattel slavery as practised by Britain was a crime against humanity Slavery was invested in by the royal family the government the established church most elite families and large public institutions in the private and public sector Citing the legal principles of unjust and criminal enrichment the author presents a compelling argument for Britain's payment of its black debt a debt that it continues to deny in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary It is at once an exciting narration of Britain's dominance of the slave markets that enriched the economy and a seminal conceptual journey into the hidden politics and public posturing of leaders on both sides of the Atlantic No work of this kind has ever been attempted No author has had the diversity of historical research skills national and international political involvement and personal engagement as an activist to present such a complex yet accessible work of scholarship

The Debt Randall Robinson, 2001-01-01 Both an unflinching indictment of past wrongs and an impassioned call to America to educate its citizens about the history of Africa and its people The Debt says in no uncertain terms what white America owes blacks and what blacks owe themselves In this powerful and controversial book distinguished African American political leader and thinker Randall Robinson argues for the restoration of the rich history that slavery and segregation severed Drawing from research and personal experience he shows that only by reclaiming their lost past and proud heritage can blacks lay the foundation for their future And white Americans can begin making reparations for slavery and the century of racial discrimination that followed with monetary restitution educational programs and the kinds of equal opportunities that will ensure the social and economic success of all citizens Engaging Robinson continues an important conversation His anecdotes support his attempts to reclaim African American heritage and empower African Americans The Washington Post

Legacies of Enslavement in the French Republic Nicola Frith, 2025-05-06 Legacies of Enslavement

in the French Republic explores the complex dynamics between social movements invested in remembering and addressing the legacies of African enslavement and the French State Exploring 25 years of activism from the build up to the 150th anniversary of the Abolition Act 1998 through to the present day the book Investigates strategies used by the French State to delink the recognition of France s enslaving past from contemporary issues with anti Black racism and reparation Asks why in the wake of the first Taubira law that recognized slavery as a crime against humanity 2001 the state has legitimized the work of certain activist groups while delegitimizing others Uses critical race theory and decolonial theory to examine the extent to which the State s approach to recognizing its past is structured by a colonial matrix of power Highlights and contests political and media misconceptions about reparations by showcasing the work of grassroots activists operating in France the Caribbean and the Indian Ocean In doing so Legacies of Enslavement showcases some of the key shifts that have taken place in the recent history of activist work operating in parallel with the successive metamorphoses of the French state as it responds to social and political pressure to recognize and repair the nation s enslaving past and its racial legacies today

Afro-Latinos in the U.S. Economy Michelle Holder, Alan A. Aja, 2021-05-18 Afro Latinos in the U S Economy outlines the current position and status of Afro Latinxs in the economy of the United States Very little research has thus far been disseminated in the field of economics on the contributions of Afro Latinxs regarding income and wealth labor market status occupational mobility and educational attainment On the other hand cultural studies literary criticism and social science fields have produced more research on Afro Latinxs the discipline of economics is thus significantly behind the curve in exploring the economic dimensions of this group While the Afro Latinx community constitutes a comparatively small segment of the U S population and is often viewed as the nexus between two of the country s largest minority groups African Americans and Latinxs who comprise 13 percent and 17 percent respectively of the U S population Holder and Aja outline how the group s unique economic position is different than non black Latinxs Despite possessing higher levels of education relative to the Latinx community as a whole U S Afro Latinxs do not experience expected returns in income and earnings underscoring the role anti Blackness plays in everyday life regardless of ancestral origin The goal of this book is to provide a foundation in the economic dimensions of Afro Latinxs in the U S which can be used to both complement and supplement research conducted on this group in other major disciplines

Paying the Social Debt Richard F. America, 1993-08-18 Richard F America here redefines the complex problems of racial economic injustice poverty inequality and lagging competitiveness and productivity in the United States In a controversial analysis the author argues that there is a true debt owed by White America to Black America that this debt is significant and that it has now come due He estimates the size of Whites debt to Blacks shows how that debt came to be and suggests creative ways of paying it back This book argues persuasively that the social and racial problems in the United States cannot be solved until we acknowledge that the haves truly and literally owe money to the have nots

Colonial Racial Capitalism Susan Koshy, Lisa Marie Cacho, Jodi

Byrd, Brian Jordan Jefferson, 2022-08-29 The contributors to Colonial Racial Capitalism consider anti Blackness human commodification and slave labor alongside the history of Indigenous dispossession and the uneven development of colonized lands across the globe They demonstrate the co constitution and entanglement of slavery and colonialism from the conquest of the New World through industrial capitalism to contemporary financial capitalism Among other topics the essays explore the historical suturing of Blackness and Black people to debt the violence of uranium mining on Indigenous lands in Canada and the Belgian Congo how municipal property assessment and waste management software encodes and produces racial difference how Puerto Rican police crackdowns on protestors in 2010 and 2011 drew on decades of policing racially and economically marginalized people and how historic sites in Los Angeles County narrate the Mexican American War in ways that occlude the war s imperialist groundings The volume s analytic of colonial racial capitalism opens new frameworks for understanding the persistence of violence precarity and inequality in modern society Contributors Joanne Barker Jodi A Byrd Lisa Marie Cacho Michael Dawson Iyko Day Ruth Wilson Gilmore Alyosha Goldstein Cheryl I Harris Kimberly Kay Hoang Brian Jordan Jefferson Susan Koshy Marisol LeBr n Jodi Melamed Laura Pulido The Scots Revised Reports Alexander Dunlop, 1904 A Dream Defaulted Jason N. Houle, Fenaba R. Addo, 2022-08-16 A Dream Defaulted explores how the student loan crisis disproportionately affects Black borrowers and why rising student debt is both a cause and consequence of social inequality in the United States Jason N Houle and Fenaba R Addo offer a deft analysis of the growing financial crisis in education examining its sources and its impacts Based on more than five years of ongoing qualitative and quantitative research this incisive work illustrates how the student loan system has not benefited all students equally The authors tell the story of how first generation college students low income students and students of color are disadvantaged in two opposing phases of the process debt accumulation and debt repayment They further demonstrate that policies intended to mitigate financial burden and prevent default have failed to assist the people who most need help Houle and Addo present these social and racial disparities within a broader context tracing how centuries of institutionalized racism have contributed to social and economic inequities perpetuating the racial wealth gap and leading to intergenerational inequality Through interviews with borrowers they illuminate the ways in which racial disparities affect who has college access how and why people take on debt and who has the ability to repay student loan debt after leaving college Recognizing that the affordability crisis cannot be solved by higher education reform alone Houle and Addo consider solutions They argue that policy must extend beyond debt reduction and financial aid to address entrenched patterns of racial inequality and racial discrimination both inside and outside institutions of higher education Trafficking in Antiblackness Lyndsey P. Beutin, 2023-02-27 In Trafficking in Antiblackness Lyndsey P Beutin analyzes how campaigns to end human trafficking often described as modern day slavery invoke the memory of transatlantic slavery to support positions ultimately grounded in antiblackness Drawing on contemporary antitrafficking visual culture and media discourse she shows how a constellation of media philanthropic NGO and government actors invested in ending human trafficking repurpose the history of transatlantic slavery and abolition in ways that undermine contemporary struggles for racial justice and slavery reparations The recurring narratives images and figures such as slavery in Africa Arab slave traders and Black incapacity for self governance discursively turn Black people across the diaspora into the enslavers of the past and present in place of white Americans and Europeans Doing so Beutin contends creates a rhetorical defense against being held liable for slavery s disposessions and violence Despite these implications Beutin demonstrates that antitrafficking discourse remains popular and politically useful for former slaving nations and their racial beneficiaries because it refashions historic justifications for white supremacy into today s abolition of slavery
