Chinese Miscellanies, Essays and Notes ,2019-10-19 Theaters of Desire: Authors, Readers, and the Reproduction of Early Chinese Song-Drama, 1300-2000 P. Sieber,2003-07-17 Blending a flair for textual nuance with theoretical engagement Theaters of Desire not only contributes to our understanding of the most influential form of early Chinese song drama in local and international cultural contexts but adds a Chinese perspective to the scholarship on print culture authorship and the regulatory discourses of desire The book argues that particularly between 1550 and 1680 Chinese elite editors rewrote and printed early plays and songs so called Yuan dynasty zaju and sanqu to imagine and embody new concepts of authorship readership and desire an interpretation that contrasts starkly with the national and racially oriented reception of song drama developed by European critics after 1735 and subsequently modified by Japanese and Chinese critics after 1897 By analyzing the critical and material facets of the early song and play tradition across different historical periods and cultural settings Theaters of Desire presents a compelling case study of literary canon formation China and the Writing of English Literary Modernity, 1690-1770 Eun Kyung Min, 2018-04-19 This book explores how a modern English literary identity was forged by its notions of other traditions and histories in particular those of China The theorizing and writing of English literary modernity took place in the midst of the famous quarrel between the Ancients and the Moderns Eun Kyung Min argues that this quarrel was in part a debate about the value of Chinese culture and that a complex cultural awareness of China shaped the development of a national literature in seventeenth and eighteenth century England by pushing to new limits questions of comparative cultural value and identity Writers including Defoe Addison Goldsmith and Percy wrote China into genres such as the novel the periodical paper the pseudo letter in the newspaper and anthologized collections of antique English poetry inventing new formal strategies to engage in this wide ranging debate about what defined modern English identity The Chinese Taste in Eighteenth-Century England David Porter, 2010-11-11 Eighteenth century consumers in Britain living in an increasingly globalized world were infatuated with exotic Chinese and Chinese styled goods art and decorative objects However they were also often troubled by the alien aesthetic sensibility these goods embodied This ambivalence figures centrally in the period s experience of China and of contact with foreign countries and cultures more generally David Porter analyzes the processes by which Chinese aesthetic ideas were assimilated within English culture Through case studies of individual figures including William Hogarth and Horace Walpole and broader reflections on cross cultural interaction Porter s readings develop new interpretations of eighteenth century ideas of luxury consumption gender taste and aesthetic nationalism Illustrated with many examples of Chinese and Chinese inspired objects and art this is a major contribution to eighteenth century cultural history and to the history of contact and exchange between China and the West Bibliotheca Orientalis Luzac &co, 1928 Manual of Chinese Bibliography, Being a List of Works and Essays Relating to China P G und Moellendorff Moellendorff (O F), 1876 Catalogue Bernard Quaritch (Firm), 1886 Manual of Chinese Bibliography, Being a List of Works and Essays Relating to China Paul Georg von Möllendorff, 1876 The Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature William Thomas Lowndes, 1887 Manual of Chinese bibliography, a list of works relating to China, by P.G. & O.F.
