Teaching and Learning Chinese as a Foreign Language Janet Zhiqun Xing,2006-01-01 This book provides a research based account of how to teach and learn Chinese as a foreign language In addition to the discussion of relevant second foreign language research this volume gives detailed information on ways to develop a pedagogical model that is uniquely suited to teaching Chinese in five key areas pronunciation tones and pinyin characters and words sentences when and why different sentence structures are used discourse and pragmatic competence coherence and genre and cultural competence Specially written for Chinese language teachers student teachers and applied linguists this is the first book written in English that systematically addresses all major aspects involved in teaching and learning Chinese as a foreign language This book covers all the fundamental grammar elements in Chinese explains their functions in discourse and communication and explores different strategies for teaching and engaging students in learning the language

Reading Acquisition of Chinese as a Second/Foreign Language, Volume II Linjun Zhang,Zaizhu Han,Yang Zhang,2023-10-26 Reading acquisition of chinese as a second/foreign language Linjun Zhang,Zaizhu Han,Yang Zhang,2023-07-12 Individual Differences in Second/Foreign Language Speech Production: Multidisciplinary Approaches and New Sounds Peijian Paul Sun,Boping Yuan,Xun Yan,Jimin Kahng,2023-09-01 Second foreign language L2 speech production is a complex process requiring individuals combined efforts to utilize various processing components such as conceptualiser formulator and articulator Since the publication of Pim Levelt s book Speaking From Intention to Articulation in 1989 a considerable number of studies have examined L2 speech production in the field of neuroscience with a particular focus on the link between speech perception and speech production Undeniably a neurolinguistic examination of speech production can enrich our understanding of how human brains compute linguistic information at a cognitive level However it is insufficient by only focusing on the neurocognitive dimension of speech production given that individuals speech production can be subject to various individual differences factors either cognitively affectively or socio culturally It is therefore necessary to move beyond the neurocognitive understanding of speech production by taking every possible perspective into consideration Individual difference as an umbrella term covers psychological traits personal characteristics cognitive and emotional components that distinguish learners from each other Given that individual difference factors can reveal disparities in L2 learning and performance among learners such factors have attracted researchers growing interest concerning their influences on L2 speech processing their relationships with L2 speech performance and their contributions to L2 speech development Nevertheless our understanding of L2 speech production is not only insufficient compared to other L2 skills such as writing and reading but also limited to the neurocognitive account of L2 speech production More research therefore is in urgent need to uncover the influence of various individual differences factors on L2 speech production from multidisciplinary perspectives
