Chinese Women Through Chinese Eyes:

Chinese Women Through Chinese Eyes Yu-ning Li,1992 The special focus of this book is the lives and experiences of women in China in the first half of the 20th century It looks at the historical role of women in a time of great social and economic upheaval and presents the views of women themselves through essays and autobiographies London Through Chinese Eyes Min-ch'ien Tuk Zung Tyau,Min-ch'ien Tuk Zung Tyau,1920 Through Chinese Eyes Peter J. variety of themes and topics in this multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary volume. In an era of globalization, scholars trained in Western traditions increasingly see the need to add materials and perspectives that have been lacking in the past. Accessibly written and void of jargon, this work provides an adaptable entry to Asia for the integration of topics into courses in the humanities, social sciences, cultural studies, and global studies. Guiding principles developed at the East West Center include noting uncommon differences, the interplay among Asian societies and traditions, the erosion of authenticity and cultural tradition as an Asian phenomenon as well as a Western one, and the possibilities Asian concepts offer for conceiving culture outside Asian contexts. The work ranges from South to Southeast to East Asia. Essays deal with art, aesthetics, popular culture, religion, geopolitical realities, geography, history, and contemporary times. This volume truly lies at the intersection of scholarship and teaching. Each essay has the potential to help rethink approaches to scholarly issues, and there is a great deal of material for classroom discussion and examples. The book's breadth, covering India, China, Korea, the Sea of Malay, Bhutan, and other locations, is impressive.

Lily Briscoe's Chinese Eyes Patricia Laurence, 2013-01-02. A map of the mutual influence of Bloomsbury, the Crescent Moon Society, and modernism in English and Chinese culture. Lily Briscoe's Chinese Eyes traces the romance of Julian Bell, nephew of Virginia Woolf, and Ling Shuhua, a writer and painter. Bell met while teaching at Wuhan University in China in 1935. Relying on a wide selection of previously unpublished writings, Patricia Laurence places Ling, often referred to as the Chinese Katherine Mansfield, squarely in the Bloomsbury constellation. In doing so, she counters East West polarities and suggests forms of understanding to inaugurate a new kind of cultural criticism and literary description. Laurence expands her examination of Bell and Ling's relationship into a study of parallel literary communities: Bloomsbury in England and the Crescent Moon group in China. Underscoring their reciprocal influences in the early part of the twentieth century, Laurence presents conversations among well-known British and Chinese writers, artists, and historians, including Virginia Woolf, Vanessa Bell, G. L. Dickinson, Xu Zhimo, E. M. Forster, and Xiao Qian. In addition, Laurence's study includes rarely seen photographs of Julian Bell, Ling, and their associates, as well as a reproduction of Ling's scroll commemorating moments in the exchange between Bloomsbury and the Crescent Moon group. While many critics agree that modernism is a movement that crosses national boundaries, literary studies rarely reflect such a view. In this volume, Laurence links unpublished letters and documents, cultural artifacts, art, literature, and people in ways that provide illumination from a comparative cultural and aesthetic perspective. In so doing, she addresses the geographical and critical imbalances and thus the architecture of modernist, postcolonial Bloomsbury and Asian studies by placing China in an aesthetic matrix of a developing international modernism.

Feminist Utopian Discourse in Eighteenth-century Chinese and English Fiction Qian Ma, 2004.
