Chocolate Evaluation:

Chocolate Evaluation Stroud Jordan, Katheryn Elizabeth Langwill, 2013-01 Beckett's Industrial Chocolate Manufacture and Use Steve T. Beckett, Mark S. Fowler, Gregory R. Ziegler, 2017-02-28 Since the publication of the first edition of Industrial Chocolate Manufacture and Use in 1988 it has become the leading technical book for the industry. From the beginning it was recognised that the complexity of the chocolate industry means that no single person can be an expert in every aspect of it. For example the academic view of a process such as crystallisation can be very different from that of a tempering machine operator so some topics have more than one chapter to take this into account. It is also known that the biggest selling chocolate in say the USA tastes very different from that in the UK so the authors in the book were chosen from a wide variety of countries making the book truly international. Each new edition is a mixture of updates, rewrites and new topics. In this book the new subjects include artisan or craft scale production, compound chocolates and sensory. This book is an essential purchase for all those involved in the manufacture, use and sale of chocolate containing products especially for confectionery and chocolate scientists, engineers and technologists working both in industry and academia. The new edition also boasts two new co editors Mark Fowler and Greg Ziegler both of whom have contributed chapters to previous editions of the book. Mark Fowler has had a long career at Nestle UK working in Cocoa and Chocolate research and development he is retiring in 2013. Greg Ziegler is a professor in the food science department at Penn State University in the USA. Chocolate Science and Technology Emmanuel Ohene Afoakwa, 2011-08-24 This book provides an overview of the science and technology of chocolate manufacture from cocoa production through the manufacturing processes to the sensory, nutrition and health aspects of chocolate consumption. It covers cocoa cultivation and production with special attention paid to cocoa bean composition, genotypic variations in the bean, post harvest pre treatments, fermentation and drying processes and the biochemical basis of these operations. The scientific principles behind industrial chocolate manufacture are outlined with detailed explanations of the various stages of chocolate manufacturing including mixing, refining, conching and tempering. Other topics covered include the chemistry of flavour formation and development during cocoa processing and chocolate manufacture, volatile flavour compounds and their characteristics and identification, sensory descriptions and character and flavour release and perception in chocolate. The nutritional and health benefits of cocoa and chocolate consumption are also addressed. There is a focus throughout on those factors that influence the flavour and quality characteristics of the finished chocolate and that provide scope for process optimization and improvement. The book is designed to be a desk reference for all those engaged in the business of making and using chocolate worldwide: confectionery and chocolate scientists in industry and academia, students and practising food scientists and technologists, nutritionists and other health professionals and libraries of institutions where food science is studied and researched. An overview of the science behind chocolate manufacture covers the whole process from cocoa production through manufacturing to the
