for Early Childhood Leaders is a collection of innovative research that crafts an overall understanding of the importance of early childhood leadership in today's schools. The book employs strategies to improve support for children in early childhood years, examines the different roles of early childhood leadership, analyzes best practices for implementation in early childhood contexts, and explores improvements for leadership preparation for schools with pre-K through third-grade children. While highlighting a wide range of topics including advocacy, cultural responses, and professional development, this publication is ideally designed for educators, administrators, principals, early childhood development teachers, daycare instructors, curriculum developers, advocates, researchers, academicians, and students.

Administration of Programs for Young Children Phyllis Click, Kimberly A. Karkos, 2008. Administration of Programs for Young Children is now out in the 7th edition. It is a tried and true guide for early childhood education professionals who want to be directors and a source of information for those who are already directors of early childhood programs. This new edition provides the latest information from the NAEYC regarding guidelines for infant sleeping arrangements, accreditation of programs for young children, and what abilities and knowledge teachers should possess. It includes an expanded discussion of the budget process as well as sound business practices and marketing strategies. The book provides current information about children's nutritional requirements that are encompassed in the new Food Guide Pyramid. The causes of staff turnover are presented, followed by a discussion of how to prevent it, and an appendix completely covers the latest information about computerized data management programs that enable directors to facilitate bookkeeping and record-keeping tasks. An additional new appendix provides the reader with reproducible forms needed for the operation of a child development program. With real-life scenarios to help the reader grasp the content, Administration of Programs for Young Children 7e is the complete resource for the aspiring child development program director or the already practicing professional.

Effective Family Engagement Policies Teresa S. McKay, 2021-09-28. Aligned with the National Association for the Education of Young Children's Principles of Effective Family Engagement, this book helps early childhood administrators create effective family engagement policies that work. For each of the six key principles, this accessible guide walks leaders through the process of creating effective policy to engage families in their program. Filled with workable documents and templates to thoroughly scaffold the entire process, administrators will finish the work ready to implement the policies created or build a plan tailored to their specific program. Designed for schools discouraged by the lack of engagement with all families, this book helps leaders strengthen the bond among home, school, and community.

Resources in Education, 1982-03. Leading on Purpose: Emotionally Intelligent Early Childhood Administration Holly Elissa Bruno, 2008-11-12. Even if a student learns all the facts and figures about early childhood administration, he or she cannot hope to lead without understanding how to build dynamic relationships with staff, families, and community. Leading on Purpose: Emotionally Intelligent Early Childhood Administration is the first textbook based in fascinating, hot-off-the-presses relational Emotional Intelligence theory. Bruno skillfully uses neuroscience brain research on relationships to breathe life into previously dry topics like regulatory legislation facilities management and budgeting Laying substantive EQ groundwork in the first two chapters the author infuses every chapter that follows from Creating a community of problem solvers winners not whiners to Quest for quality licensing accreditation and codes of ethics with vibrantly engaging authentic case studies Leading on Purpose is a text students will WANT to read Are you ready Family Engagement in Early Childhood Settings Mary Muhs,2018-11-20 Working with parents and families can be a challenge especially when there are contradicting expectations However it can also be a joyful and empowering experience for both the program and the family if partnering with families is built into the program s culture Following a strengths based approach Family Engagement in Early Childhood Settings offers all programs including family child care center based and school based programs strategies for building or enhancing interactions engagement expectations communication and participation with families This Redleaf Quick Guide provides clear information of what to do as well as what not to do when encouraging family engagement in early care and education programs Readers will find helpful information on making the best first impressions with parents in person and online establishing effective and supportive intake meetings for both parents and program setting expectations from both perspectives two way communication strategies including daily conversations verbal and technological methods conferences and documenting learning and creating a culture of family engagement embedded into every part of your program Administration of Programs for Young Children Phyllis M.
