Early American Scientific Instruments:

Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers Professor Silvio A Bedini,2021-04-20 The book Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers has been considered important throughout the human history and so that this work is never forgotten we have made efforts in its preservation by republishing this book in a modern format for present and future generations This whole book has been reformatted retyped and designed These books are not made of scanned copies of their original work and hence the text is clear and readable Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers Silvio A. Bedini,2019-11-22 In Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers Silvio A Bedini meticulously explores the intricate relationship between science and craftsmanship during America s formative years This compelling study delves into the evolution of scientific tools and devices highlighting the innovations and practical applications that characterized early American scientific advancement With a literary style that expertly blends historical narrative with detailed descriptions Bedini situates this work within the broader context of American intellectual history presenting a vivid portrait of the makers who contributed to the country s scientific landscape Silvio A Bedini a noted historian and curator draws from a wealth of knowledge accumulated during his tenure at the Smithsonian Institution where he dedicated himself to the preservation and study of scientific instruments His passion for this niche area of history can be attributed to his belief in the significance of these tools as artifacts of human ingenuity and inquiry In addition Bedini s extensive research into various craftsmen and their contributions offers readers a nuanced understanding of the cultural and technological milieu of the time Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers is an essential read for scholars collectors and enthusiasts alike offering profound insights into the ingenuity of early American science Whether you are a historian seeking a deeper understanding of America s technological past or simply curious about the evolution of scientific tools Bedini s work is both informative and engaging inviting you to appreciate the legacy of these remarkable creators

Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers Bedini Silvio A,2016-06-23 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers Silvio A. Bedini,1964 Within recent years fairly exhaustive studies have been made on many aspects on American Science and Technology To make a comprehensive study of American scientific instruments and instrument makers in the American Colonies is no simple matter partly because of an indifference to the subject in the past and partly because of the great volume of sources that must be sifted to accomplish it Early American Scientific Instruments and Their Makers \(Classic Reprint\) Silvio A. How Scientific Instruments Have Changed Hands ,2016-09-12 This collection of essays discusses the marketing of scientific and medical instruments from the eighteenth century to the First World War The evidence presented here is derived from sources as diverse as contemporary trade literature through newspaper advertisements to rarely surviving inventories and from the instruments themselves The picture may not yet be complete but it has been acknowledged that it is more complex than sketched out twenty five or even fifty years ago Here is a collection of case studies from the United Kingdom the Americas and Europe showing instruments moving from maker to market place and to some extent what happened next Contributors are Alexi Baker Paolo Brenni Laura Ch zaro Gloria Clifton Peggy Aldrich Kidwell Richard L Kremer A D Morrison Low Joshua Nall Sara J Schechner and Liba Taub Nineteenth-century Scientific Instruments Gerard L'Estrange Turner, Margaret Weston, 1983-01-01 Examines the variety of instruments and equipment used in scientific research in fields such as chemistry mechanics meteorology and electricity Making Scientific Instruments in the Industrial Revolution A.D. Morrison-Low, 2017-03-02 At the start of the Industrial Revolution it appeared that most scientific instruments were made and sold in London but by the time of the Great Exhibition in 1851 a number of provincial firms had the self confidence to exhibit their products in London to an international audience How had this change come about and why This book looks at the four main and two lesser English centres known for instrument production outside the capital Birmingham Liverpool Manchester and Sheffield along with the older population centres in Bristol and York Making wide use of new sources Dr Morrison Low curator of history of science at the National Museums of Scotland charts the growth of these centres and provides a characterisation of their products New information is provided on aspects of the trade especially marketing techniques sources of materials tools and customer relationships From contemporary evidence she argues that the principal output of the provincial trade with some notable exceptions must have been into the London marketplace anonymously and at the cheaper end of the market She also discusses the structure and organization of the provincial trade and looks at the impact of new technology imported from other closely allied trades By virtue of its approach and subject matter the book considers aspects of economic and business history gender and the family the history of science and technology material culture and patterns of migration It contains a myriad of stories of families and firms of entrepreneurs and customers and of organizations and arms of government In bringing together this wide range of interests Dr Morrison Low enables us to appreciate how central the making selling and distribution of scientific instruments was for the Industrial Revolution Some Early Tools of American Science I.
