Bitel, 2009-05-19 Lisa Bitel uses the history of two unique holy women Genovefa of Paris ca 420 509 and Brigit

of Kildare ca 452-524 to reveal how ordinary Europeans lived through Christianization at the dawn of the Middle Ages. Most converts did not have a sudden epiphany. Bitel argues. Instead they learned and lived their new religion in continuous conversation with preachers, saints, rulers, and neighbors. Together they built their faith over many years, brick by brick, into their churches and shrines, cemeteries, houses, and even their markets and farms. Ireland, 1916. Early Irish Myths and Sagas, 1981-09-17. First written down in the eighth century AD, these early Irish stories depict a far older world, part myth, part legend, and part history. Rich with magic and achingly beautiful, they speak of a land of heroic battles, intense love, and warrior ideals in which the otherworld is explored and men mingle freely with the gods. From the vivid adventures of the great Celtic hero Cu Chulainn to the stunning Exile of the Sons of Uisliu, a tale of treachery, honour, and romance, these are masterpieces of passion and vitality and form the foundation for the Irish literary tradition, a mythic legacy that was a powerful influence on the work of Yeats, Synge, and Joyce. The Journal of the Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland. Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland, 1898. Index of archaeological papers published in 1891 under the direction of the Congress of Archaeological Societies in union with the Society of Antiquaries. Education in Ancient and Medieval Ireland. Fergal McGrath, 1979. Selected Writings of John V. Kelleher on Ireland, a collection of eighteen critical essays and twenty-six translations spanning the career of one of the founding intellects of Irish Studies. The Selected Writings of John V. Kelleher on Ireland and Irish America consists of five accessible sections. The first gathers Kelleher's essays on the most widely known Irish cultural phenomenon, the literary renaissance of the early twentieth century. Part two contains his judicious assessments of Irish literature in its post-Revolutionary phase. The third section includes Kelleher's insightful essays on the experience of the Irish in America. The fourth section contains essays that examine early Irish literature and culture, opening with a benchmark essay for Irish Studies, Early Irish History and Pseudo History, which was read at the inaugural meeting of the American Conference for Irish Studies in 1961. The collection concludes with Kelleher's translations and adaptations of poems in Old, Middle, and Modern Irish, illustrating his command of the language at every stage. The Sources for the Early History of Ireland: an Introduction and Guide.
