Chinese Indonesians Remembering Distorting And Forgetting:

Chinese Indonesians Tim Lindsey, Helen Pausacker, 2005 This volume honours and reflects on the life and work of the Australian Indonesianist Charles A Coppel His interests reflected in this volume are broad ranging from history politics legal issues and violence against the Chinese through to culture and religion The chapters in the volume contributed by scholars from Australia Indonesia Europe and Singapore also all reflect a theme inspired by Charles Coppel's expression remembering distorting forgetting by which he drew attention to misrepresentations of the Chinese seeking to locate the realities behind the myths that form the basis for the racism and xenophobia the Chinese have often experienced in Indonesia

Chinese Indonesians Reassessed Siew-Min Sai, Chang-Yau Hoon, 2013 The book shows how the Chinese minority is much more diverse and the picture much richer and more complicated than previous studies have allowed Subjects covered include the historical development of Chinese communities in peripheral areas of Indonesia the religious practices of Chinese Indonesians which are by no means confined to Chinese religions and Chinese ethnic events where a wide range of Indonesians not just Chinese participate

Chinese Indonesians and Regime Change Marleen Dieleman, Juliette Koning, Peter Post, 2010-11-12 The existing literature on Chinese Indonesians has so far tended to take an approach of either victimization and marginalization or a focus on elite businessmen and their economic influence This volume takes a different perspective The Chinese in Indonesia were not only innocent victims of history but were simultaneously active agents of change Chinese Indonesians from different walks of life played an active role in shaping society during regime changes and found creative and constructive ways to deal with situations of adversity This book demonstrates that regime changes in Indonesia did not only pose threats of violence but also offered opportunities that induced agency on the part of Chinese Indonesians to shape their own destinies and that of the country

Chinese Indonesians in Post-Suharto Indonesia Wu-Ling Chong, 2018-10-02 Selfish obscenely rich insular and opportunistic these remain how Chinese minorities in Indonesia are perceived by the indigenous population However far from being passive victims of discrimination and marginalisation Chong presents a forceful case in which Chinese Indonesians possess the agency to shape their future in the country particularly in the changing political business and socio cultural environment after the fall of Suharto While a lack of good governance that promotes the rule of law and accountability allows or even encourages some Chinese to maintain the status quo by perpetuating corrupt business practices inherited from Suharto's New Order regime there are other Chinese Indonesians who make full use of the democratic space opened up under the new administrations acting as agents of reform by participating in electoral politics and establishing inter ethnic socio cultural organisations Building on Anthony Giddens's structure agency theory and Pierre Bourdieu's notions of habitus and field Chong shows that the Chinese minorities have played an active role in the democratic process even though they continue to occupy an ambivalent position in Indonesia The Chinese Indonesians diverse strategies to safeguard their personal interests and cultural identities make a stimulating case study of what an ethnic minority could do to make a difference Backed by formidable research Chong has produced an intriguing and original view of the political social and economic activity of the still precariously placed Chinese minority in Indonesia Donald L Horowitz Duke University author of Constitutional Change and Democracy in Indonesia In this illuminating study Chong traces the political economy of Indonesia's ethnic Chinese minority as they navigate the country's post 1998 politics which is more free but still lacks strong rule of law Focusing especially on Medan and Surabaya she analyses how some have strongly supported reforms while many continue old practices of surviving and profiting by participating in massive corruption and extortion Jeffrey A Winters Northwestern University author of Oligarchy Chinese Indonesians Timothy Lindsey, Helen Pausacker, 2005 Honours and reflects on the life and work of the Australian Indonesianist Charles A Coppel His interests reflected in this volume are broad ranging from history politics legal issues and violence against the Chinese through culture and religion Both authors are at the University of Melbourne The George Hicks Collection Eunice Low, 2016-07-18 The George Hicks Collection at the National Library Singapore comprises about 6 900 books and materials donated between 200 and 2015 by Mr George Lyndon Hicks The Collection focuses on four main subject areas Southeast Asia China Japan and overseas Chinese spanning the disciplines of history sociology economics political science and anthropology The body of works in the Collection reveals Mr Hicks profound interest in Asia and his scholarly pursuits over the decades This volume written and compiled by Eunice Low presents an annotated bibliography of selected works from the Collection and highlights significant titles Also included are an overview of the life and career of Mr Hicks a list of his authored and edited works as well as essays introducing the chapters Outside and In-Between: Theorizing Asian-Canadian Exclusion and the Challenges of Identity Formation, 2021-09-06 Asian Canadians whether immigrant international students naturalized native born or other are hampered in their exploration and articulation of self by the dearth of critical writing both for them and by them Despite the influx of Asian students and their inflated tuition rates to Canadian postsecondary institutions they are strikingly underrepresented in the literature of the academy Critical theory focusing on Asian identity anti Asian racism and the Asian Canadian experience is limited or presented as an artifact of the past Across the globe but particularly in the English speaking West the internationalization of higher education continues its upward trend 2017 data from the Canadian Bureau for International Education positioned Canada as the fourth leading destination for international students seeking post secondary education The fact that the vast majority of international students at Canadian colleges and universities come from Asia has been well documented in domestic media but the lived experiences and perspectives of these transnational individuals have not This edited collection provides much needed theorizing of Asian Canadian lived experiences focusing on such themes as multiculturalism diversity race culture agency education community activism citizenship identity model minority myths gender colonization neoliberalism and others Contributors include Sarah Alam Syed Fahad Ali Wallis Caldoza Valerie G Damasco Grace Garlow Allison Lam Kailan Leung

Juanna Nguyen Dionisio Nyaga Jasmine Pham Vania Soepriatna Tika Ram Thapa and Rose Ann Torres Routledge Handbook of the Chinese Diaspora Chee-Beng Tan, 2013-02-11 With around 40 million people worldwide the ethnic Chinese and the Chinese in diaspora form the largest diaspora in the world The economic reform of China which began in the late 1970s marked a huge phase of migration from China and the new migrants many of whom were well educated have had a major impact on the local societies and on China This is the first interdisciplinary Handbook to examine the Chinese diaspora and provides a comprehensive analysis of the processes and effects of Chinese migration under the headings of Population and distribution Mainland China and Taiwan s policies on the Chinese overseas Migration past and present Economic and political involvement Localization transnational networks and identity Education literature and media The Routledge Handbook of the Chinese Diaspora brings together a significant number of specialists from a number of diverse disciplines and covers the major areas of the study of Chinese overseas This Handbook is therefore an important and valuable reference work for students scholars and policy makers worldwide who wish to understand the global phenomena of Chinese migration transnational connections and their cultural and identity transformation Chinese Indonesians Leo Suryadinata, 2004 This book examines the various aspects of life for ethnic Chinese in Indonesia including acceptance by the Indonesian nationalists as part of the Indonesian nation the pribumi model discrimination and violence against the Chinese the process of integration and assimilation and the concept of Chinese ness as seen through ethnic Chinese literature Each of the seven chapters provides insight from different perspectives on the issue of the state and its impact on society and culture demonstrating undeniably how the Indonesian state has played a major role in shaping the political social and cultural lives of Chinese Indonesians Journal of Chinese Overseas ,2006 Wacana journal of the humanities of Indonesia ,2020 China's Footprints in Southeast Asia Ma. Serena I. Diokno, Xinhuan Xia, Alan Hao Yang, 2019 The countries that make up Southeast Asia are seeing an incredible resurgence in their economic power Over the past fifty years their combined wealth has reached the same level as the United Kingdom and taken together they are on track to become the fifth largest world economy But that stability and success has drawn the attention of the second largest world economy China The emerging superpower is increasingly involved in Southeast Asia as part of the ongoing global realignment As China deepens its influence across the region the countries of Southeast Asia are negotiating spaces for themselves in order to respond to or even challenge China s power This is the first book to survey China s growing role in Southeast Asia along multiple dimensions It looks closely and skeptically at the multitude of ways that China has built connections in the region including through trade foreign aid and cultural diplomacy It incorporates examples such as the operation of Confucius Institutes in Indonesia or the promotion of the concept of guangxi China s Footprints in Southeast Asia raises the question of whether the Chinese efforts are helpful or disruptive and explores who it is that really stands to benefit from these relationships The answers differ from country to country but as this volume suggests the footprint of hard and soft power always leaves a lasting mark on other countries institutions Inside Indonesia ,2004 The Hakkas of Sarawak Kee Howe Yong,2013-07-04 This book tells the story of the Hakka Chinese in Sarawak Malaysia who were targeted as communists or communist sympathizers because of their Chinese ethnicity the 1960s and 1970s Thousands of these rural Hakkas were relocated into new villages surrounded by barbed wire or detained at correction centres where incarcerated people were understood to be sacrificial gifts to the war on communism and to the rule of Malaysia s judicial administrative regime The Hakkas of Sarawak looks at how these incarcerated people struggled for survival and dealt with their defeat over the course of a generation Using methodologies of narrative theory and exchange theory Kee Howe Yong provides a powerful account of the ongoing legacies of Cold War oppression and its impact on the lives of people who were victimized by these policies

Studying Ethnic Chinese in Indonesia Charles A. Coppel,2002 The Australian Journal of Asian Law ,2006

Representing the Past of Chinese Language Education Siew-Min Sai,2006 Part One of the dissertation begins after the 1998 regime change when a Chinese language public emerged in Jakarta Alumni from previously banned Chinese schools are the main leaders of this public and the educational revival Examining nationalist narratives historiographies memorials biographies oral life stories and nostalgic commemorations the dissertation demonstrates how these discourses are constituting a collective sense of a Chinese educated generation This generation is resurrecting the past to orient this public toward an Indonesian future Understanding the Ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata,2007 About 80 percent of the ethnic Chinese outside China live in Southeast Asia This book examines that community in the context of both national and international dimensions Islamic Law in Contemporary Indonesia R. Michael Feener,Mark E. Cammack,2007 The essays in this volume provide focused examinations of the internal dynamics of intellectual and institutional Islamic law in modern Indonesia together offering a substantive introduction to important developments in both the theory and practice of law in the world s most populous Muslim society The Career Development Quarterly ,2007
