TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing.

New Horizons in Chinese Linguistics C-T James Huang,Audrey Li Yen Hui,2012-12-06

The past decade and a half has witnessed a great deal of renewed interest in the study of Chinese linguistics not only in the traditional areas of philological studies and in theoretically oriented areas of syn chronic grammar and language change but also in the cultivation of new frontiers in related areas of the cognitive sciences. There is a significant increase in the number of students studying one area or another of the linguistic structure of Chinese in various linguistic programs in the United States Europe Australia and in China Hong Kong Singapore Taiwan and other parts of Asia. Several new academic departments devoted to the study of linguistics have been established in Taiwan and Hong Kong in the past few years. The increasing research and study activities have also resulted in a number of national and international conferences including the North American Conference on Chinese Linguistics NACCL which has been held annually in the United States the International Symposium on Chinese Languages and Linguistics IsCLL which has had its fourth meeting since it was launched by Academia Sinica in Taiwan in 1990 the International Association of Chinese Linguistics IACL created in Singapore in 1992 and now incorporated in Irvine California which has held its annual meetings at major institutions in Asia Europe and the US.

New Terms for New Ideas Michael Lackner,Iwo Amelung,Joachim Kurtz,2021-11-15

This volume is about the lasting impact of new Western notions on the 19th and early 20th century Chinese language their invention spread and standardization. Reaching beyond the mere cataloguing of the thousands of lexical innovations in this period of change the essays explore the multiple ways in which initially alien notions were naturalized in Chinese scientific and political discourse. Topics examined range from preconceptions about the capacity of the Chinese language to accommodate foreign ideas the formation of specific nomenclatures and the roles of individual translators to Chinese and European attempts at coming to terms with each other's grammar. By systematically analysing and assessing the lexical adaptation of Western notions in Chinese contexts the book will serve as a valuable reference work for all those interested in the historical semantics of modern China

The Sinitic Languages Mieczysław Jerzy K nstler, 2019-02-04 The Sinitic Languages is the quintessence of Mieczys aw Jerzy K nstler s thirty years of research into the Chinese languages Originally published in Polish in 2000 as J zyki chi skie this work collected K nstler s various lectures on the fascinating world of this branch of the Sino-Tibetan language family It marked the apogee of linguistic research of Chinese languages in Poland With a keen intuitive understanding of the workings of these languages K nstler introduces his readership to the historical development of spoken Sinitic languages Besides analyzing the various stages of Standard Chinese he also makes a convincing case for classifying Cantonese Pekinese Nankinese Minnanese Wu and other so called dialects as distinct languages K nstler s work offers an insightful and detailed overview about synchronic and diachronic research on the major language groups of Chinese a fast growing academic field until today The present English version was begun by K nstler himself before his untimely demise in 2007 However it is not merely a translation of the Polish work but a revised edition that introduces a shift in Sinological linguistics from a genetic to an areal description of Modern Chinese languages A joint effort of the Polish linguist Alfred Franciszek Majewicz and the Sinologists Ewa Zajdler and Maria Kurpaska helped to bring the original manuscript to its completion Thus The Sinitic Languages is now finally accessible for a larger readership Both amateurs and experts interested in this topic are invited to follow K nstler on his intellectual journey into Sinological linguistics K nstler intentionally excluded Chinese characters from his work because he viewed the Sinitic languages primarily as spoken languages In order to provide readers with the opportunity to compare spoken and written language the editors added an index with glossary to the English version

Prosodic Morphology in Mandarin Chinese Shengli Feng, 2017-12-14 It is not entirely clear if modern Chinese is a monosyllabic or disyllabic language Although a disyllabic prosodic unit of some sort has long been considered by many to be at play in Chinese grammar the intuition is not always rigidly fleshed out theoretically in the area of Chinese morphology In this book Shengli Feng applies the theoretical model of prosodic morphology to Chinese morphology to provide the theoretical clarity regarding how and why Mandarin Chinese words are structured in a particular way All of the facts generated by the system of prosodic morphology in Chinese provide new perspectives for linguistic theory as well as insights for teaching Chinese and studying of Chinese poetic prosody
