Twelftree, The Trial and Death of Jesus Christ: A Devotional History of Our Lord's Passion James Stalker,1910-01-01 Our study of the closing scenes of the life of our Lord begins at the point where He fell into the hands of the representatives of justice and this took place at the gate of Gethsemane and at the midnight hour On the eastern side of Jerusalem the ground slopes downwards to the bed of the Brook Kedron and on the further side of the stream rises the Mount of Olives The side of the hill was laid out in gardens or orchards belonging to the inhabitants of the city and Gethsemane was one of these There is no probability that the enclosure now pointed out to pilgrims at the foot of the hill is the actual spot or that the six aged olive trees which it contains are those to the silent shadows of which the Saviour used to resort but the scene cannot have been far away and the piety which lingers with awe in the traditional site cannot be much mistaken The agony in Gethsemane was just over when lo as St Matthew says Judas one of the twelve came and with him a great multitude They had come down from the eastern gate of the city and were approaching the entrance to the garden It was full moon and the black mass was easily visible moving along the dusty road The arrest of Christ was not made by two or three common officers of justice The great multitude has to be taken literally but not in the sense of a disorderly crowd As it was at the instance of the ecclesiastical authorities that the apprehension took place their servants the Levitical police of the temple were to the front But as Jesus had at least eleven resolute men with Him and these might rouse incalculable numbers of His adherents on the way to the city it had been considered judicious to ask from the Roman governor a division of soldiers 1 which at the time of the Passover was located in the fortress of Antonia overlooking the temple to intervene in any emergency And some of the members of the Sanhedrim had even come themselves so eager were they to see that the design should not miscarry This composite force was armed with swords and staves the former weapon belonging perhaps to the Roman soldiers and the latter to the temple police and they carried lanterns and torches probably because they expected to have to hunt for Jesus and His followers in the recesses of His retreat Altogether it was a formidable body they were
