World in Transition 4 German Advisory Council On Global Change (Wbgu), 2013-09-13 At the start of the 21st century fighting poverty and protecting the environment are two of the most urgent challenges facing the international community Environmental changes will jeopardize people's survival to an even greater extent in the future and will hit the poor hardest To meet these challenges it will be essential to breathe new life into the partnership between industrialized and developing countries It will be equally essential to combine poverty reduction with environmental protection in an integrated policy structure spanning all levels from local to global In this report the German Advisory Council on Global Change WBGU shows that global environmental policy is a prerequisite for global poverty reduction WBGU analyses the relevant policy processes and delivers recommendations charting the way forward With its interdisciplinary approach providing a complex and systematic analysis of the poverty environment nexus WBGU's latest report breaks new ground Indira Gandhi's old convenient maxim was Poverty is the biggest polluter Put forward at the 1972 UN Conference on the Human Environment in Stockholm it has been sorely misused ever since to override environmental precaution and prioritize economic development strategies instead The new WBGU report maps out a way to shape a coherent environment and development policy This report revitalizes the Rio spirit and gives it a robust scientific base Prof Dr Ernst Ulrich von Weizsäcker Member of the German Bundestag MdB Global Health John J. Kirton, 2017-05-15 In recent years especially since the end of the cold war the field of global health has become increasingly linked with and central to the more traditional concerns of international relations The spread of communicable diseases the challenge of migrating health workers and the development of new technologies and medicines have all contributed to the ever expanding issue of global health International organizations such as the World Health Organization the utilization of techniques such as the creation of the framework convention on tobacco control and the development of civil society organizations such as the Gates Foundation have all changed the face and framework of global health Among the many benefits to the expanding interdisciplinary study of health is the possibility of preventing millions of unnecessary deaths occurring every year By assembling from a wide array of disciplines and fields the central works that define the field in international relations today this innovative work explores the future of global health and the possible benefits of expanding the interdisciplinary path even further Dynamics of Development Gove Hambidge, 1964 Health Sector Reforms in Orissa Subrata Kundu, 2010-07-12 In analysing the phenomenon of health sector reforms this book proposes a new conceptual framework of analysis and ethnography as a methodological tool which could be used effectively in various country contexts compared to what the existing theoretical frameworks do Thus apart from generating new knowledge in health sector this study has significance for policy makers across the world When the states themselves accept the fact that increasing private participation in health care in the form of health sector reforms is happening because of deliberate state policy they will be better positioned to take decisions which ensure effective private sector regulation and universal access to quality health care within a democratic or participatory framework of governance Increasing privatisation of health care has also led toward citizens losing their democratic spaces with regard to decisions on universal access to quality health care This has wider implications not only for improved health status in general but also about how we live in a modern society with our values of liberty equality and justice intact The book would be a useful guide for policy makers researchers students and layman across the world Dynamic Industrial Policy in Africa United Nations.
