Early graves, a book for the bereaved John Ross MacDuff,1883 Tracing Textile Production from the Viking Age to the Middle Ages Ingvild Øye,2022-05-05 This book concerns textile production at the fringes of north western Europe areas in western Norway and the North Atlantic in the expanding dynamic and transformative period from the early Viking Age into the Middle Ages Textiles constitute one of the basic needs in human life to protect and keep the body warm but also to show social status and affiliations Textiles had a wide spectrum of use areas and qualities fine and coarse in various contexts and in the Viking Age not least related to the production of sails all essential for the development and character of the period So what were the tools and textiles like who made them who used them and who exposed them By tracing textile production from the remains of tools and textiles in varied landscapes and settings Viking Age graves and in situ workplaces from the whole period and combining this with textual information many layers of information are exposed about technology and qualities as well as gender gender roles social relations power and networks By combining tools textiles and texts in various settings this book aims to contextualize dispersed archaeological finds of tools and textiles to uncover patterns across larger areas and in a long term perspective of half a millennium Notes on the Contents of Two Viking Graves in Islay, Discovered by William Campbell, Esq., of Ballinaby Joseph Anderson,1879 Liñ: Or, Notable People and Notable Things in the Early History of Lynn James Robinson Newhall,1879 The Amesbury Archer and the Boscombe Bowmen A. P. Fitzpatrick,2013-11-01 Found a few kilometres from Stonehenge the graves of the Amesbury Archer and the Boscombe Bowmen date to the 24th century BC and are two of the earliest Bell Beaker graves in Britain The Boscombe Bowmen is a collective burial and the Amesbury Archer is a single burial but isotope analyses suggest that both were the graves of incomers to Wessex The objects placed in both graves have strong continental connections and the metalworking tool found in the grave of the Amesbury Archer may explain why his mourners afforded him one of the most well furnished burials yet found in Europe This excavation report contains a series of wide ranging studies and scientific analyses by an array of experts and a discussion of the graves within their British and continental European contexts
