Drop Too Many:

A Drop Too Many John Frost, 2008-12-15 One of the British Army's first paratroopers recounts in vivid detail his service in the 2nd Parachute Battalion during the Battle of Arnhem and beyond. No one who has read of Arnhem can fail to be inspired by the gallantry of the 2nd Parachute Regiment which held the north end of the key road bridge over the Rhine, the Bridge Too Far, not for twenty-four hours for which it was equipped but for three days and four nights. Commanded by the then Lieutenant Colonel Frost, they beat off repeated armored and infantry assaults by far greater numbers until forced out of the ruined and burning positions by losses, lack of ammunition, and the failure of the whole Arnhem operation. Their sacrifice stands as one of the most heroic defenses of all time. General Frost's story is in effect that of the battalion. His tale starts with the Iraq Levies and goes on to the major airborne operations in which he took part: Bruneval, Tunisia, Sicily, Italy, Arnhem, and continues with his experiences as a prisoner and the reconstruction of the battalion after the German surrender. Though written with modesty and humor, the book is shot through with the fire and determination of the fighting soldier and throws important new light on many controversies, not only those of Arnhem. A Drop Too Many Major General John Frost, 2008-12-15. George Melville Baker, 1876. A Drop Too Many John Frost, 2008. A World War II memoir about one of the most heroic defenses of all time. Expands on a story told in Cornelius Ryan's classic book A Bridge Too Far which was made into a movie starring Anthony Hopkins as Frost. Also includes airborne actions in North Africa and Sicily. As part of Operation Market Garden, the Allies' September 1944 attempt to secure crossings over the Rhine River in the Netherlands, the British 2nd Parachute Regiment, commanded by John Frost, landed outside Arnhem with orders to seize bridges inside the city. The paratroopers did so but were soon cut off from other Allied units. Grossly outnumbered, Frost and his men fought off German armored and infantry assaults for three days and four nights. Finally forced to surrender, Frost spent the remainder of the war in German captivity. Night Raid Taylor Downing, 2013-05-09. The loss of British bombers over Occupied Europe began to reach alarming levels in 1941. Could it be that the Germans were using a sophisticated form of radar to direct their night fighters and anti aircraft guns at the British bombers British aerial reconnaissance discovered what seemed to be a rotating radar tower on a cliff top at Bruneval near Le Havre The truth must be revealed The decision was taken to launch a daring raid on the Bruneval site to try and capture the technology for further examination The planned airborne assault would be extremely risky The parachute regiment had only been formed a year before on Churchill's insistence This night raid would test the men to the extreme limits of their abilities Night Raid tells the gripping tale of this mission from the planning stages to the failed rehearsals when the odds seemed stacked against them to the night of the raid itself and the scientific secrets that were discovered thanks to the paras precious cargo the German radar Its capture was of immense importance in the next stages of the war and the mission itself marked the birth of the legend of the Red Devils
