Fischer,M. Elisabetta Tonizzi,2017-10-18 This book provides a series of case studies concerning ports and port communities from around the world in attempt to determine the impact of globalisation on the port industry and the link between local and global port conditions It also presents the case for the absolute necessity of ports and port systems to trade and industry on a global scale The book is comprised of ten essays the first six of which concern local issues in a rapid globalising industry The second section contains the remaining four essays which consider port systems from national perspectives

Maxime Weygand and Civil-military Relations in Modern France Philip Charles Farwell Bankwitz,1967 This is the first scholarly study of the prewar phase of the French army s development into a disruptive force in national life A chapter from the portentous 20th century story of the soldier in politics it has relevance to contemporary situations in other western societies The book includes an encyclopedic bibliography

City Walls in Late Antiquity Emanuele Intagliata,Simon J. Barker,Christopher Courault,2020-06-30 The construction of urban defences was one of the hallmarks of the late Roman and late antique periods 300 600 AD throughout the western and eastern empire City walls were the most significant construction projects of their time and they redefined the urban landscape Their appearance and monumental scale as well as the cost of labour and material are easily comparable to projects from the High Empire however urban circuits provided late antique towns with a new means of self representation While their final appearance and construction techniques varied greatly the cost involved and the dramatic impact that such projects had on the urban topography of late antique cities mark city walls as one of the most important urban initiatives of the period To date research on city walls in the two halves of the empire has highlighted chronological and regional variations enabling scholars to rethink how and why urban circuits were built and functioned in Late Antiquity Although these developments have made a significant contribution to the understanding of late antique city walls studies are often concerned with one single monument small group of monuments or a particular region and the issues raised do not usually lead to a broader perspective creating an artificial divide between east and west It is this broader understanding that this book seeks to provide The volume and its contributions arise from a conference held at the British School at Rome and the Swedish Institute of Classical Studies in

Rome on June 20 21 2018 It includes articles from world leading experts in late antique history and archaeology and is based around important themes that emerged at the conference such as construction spolia use late antique architecture culture and urbanism empire wide changes in Late Antiquity and the perception of this practice by local inhabitants
