Gyatso was born in a Tibetan village in 1933 and became an ordained Buddhist monk at eighteen just as Tibet was in the midst of political upheaval. When Communist China invaded Tibet in 1950 it embarked on a program of reform that would eventually affect all of Tibet's citizens and nearly decimate its ancient culture. In 1967 the Chinese destroyed monasteries across Tibet and forced thousands of monks into labor camps and prisons. Gyatso spent the next twenty-five years of his life enduring interrogation and torture simply for the strength of his beliefs. Palden Gyatso's story bears witness to the resilience of the human spirit and to the strength of Tibet's proud civilization faced with cultural genocide. To readers of this memoir however untraveled Tibet will never again seem remote or unfamiliar. Gyatso reminds us that the language of suffering is universal. Library Journal Has the ring of undeniable truth. Finally exonerated Tashi became a professor of English at Tibet University and went on to found in 1985 the first English night school in Lhasa. Volume 8: Tibet, Self, and the Tibetan Diaspora P. Christiaan Klieger,2021-11-15 The ten papers presented in this eight volume of the Proceedings of the Ninth Seminar of the IATS 2000 provide examples of the colourful and lively range of Tibetan self expressions that exist within the modern homeland and in exile The scholars here represent the fields of anthropology sociology literary studies history and political science Four papers are based in studies in the modern Tibet Autonomous Region five are grounded in the Tibetan diaspora and one deals with both classical Tibetan history and current affairs The mass representation of Tibetan self delivered through various literary vehicles by linguistic competence body decoration landscape or individual deportment constitutes the basic theme of this collection The volume is useful for any student of Tibet and those interested in the process of identity formation and presentation Tibetan Buddhism in Diaspora Ana Lopes,2014-12-17 The imperialist ambitions of China which invaded Tibet in the late 1940s have sparked the spectacular spread of Tibetan Buddhism worldwide and especially in western countries This work is a study on the malleability of a particular Buddhist tradition on its adaptability in new contexts The book analyses the nature of the Tibetan Buddhism in the Diaspora It examines how the re signification of Tibetan Buddhist practices and organizational structures in the present refers back to the dismantlement of the Tibetan state headed by the Dalai Lama and the fragmentation of Tibetan Buddhist religious organizations in general It includes extensive multi sited fieldwork conducted in the United States Brazil Europe and Asia and a detailed analysis of contemporary documents relating to the global spread of Tibetan Buddhism The author demonstrates that there is a de institutionalized and de territorialized project of political power and religious organization which among several other consequences engenders the gradual autonomization of lamas and lineages inside the religious field of Tibetan Buddhism Thus a spectre of these previous institutions continues to exist outside their original contexts and they are continually activated in ever new settings Using a combination of two different academic traditions namely the Brazilian anthropological tradition and the American Buddhist studies tradition it investigates the process of cultural re signification of Tibetan Buddhism in the context of its Diaspora Thus it will be a valuable resource to students and scholars of Asian Religion Asian Studies and Buddhism Apparitions of the Self 'Jigs-med-gling-pa Rang-byung-rdo-rje,1998 Apparitions of the Self is a groundbreaking investigation into what is known in Tibet as secret autobiography an exceptional rarely studied literary genre that presents a personal exploration of intimate religious experiences In this volume Janet Gyatso translates and studies the outstanding pair of secret autobiographies by the famed Tibetan Buddhist visionary Jigme Lingpa 1730 1798 whose poetic and self conscious writings are as much about the nature of his own identity memory and the undecidabilities of autobiographical truth as they are narrations of the actual content of his experiences Their translation in this book marks the first time that works of this sort have been translated in a Western language Gyatso is among the first to consider Tibetan literature from a comparative perspective examining the surprising fit as well as the misfit of Western literary theory with Tibetan autobiography She examines the intriguing questions of why Tibetan Buddhists produced so many autobiographies far more than other Asian Buddhists and how autobiographical self assertion is possible even while Buddhists believe that the self is ultimately an illusion Also explored are Jigme Lingpa s historical milieu his revelatory visions of the ancient Tibetan dynasty and his meditative practices of personal cultivation The book concludes with a study of the subversive female figure of the Dakini in Jigme Lingpa s writings and the implications of her gender her sexuality and her unsettling discourse for the autobiographical subject in Tibet
