man chosen to lead humanity away from its electronics saturated existence and build new purposeful lives Boy from Bethulie Patrick Mynhardt, 2003 Boy from Bethulie is a major theatrical autobiography which is both funny and breathtakingly honest Part history of mainstream South African theatre from the 1950s and part social documentary of the communities Mynhardt has played to sophisticated audiences in ostentatious national theatres rural audiences in tiny ill equipped and draughty halls in desolate platteland towns and villages business executives in bomas in the bush the book focuses a spotlight on the people and places intricately linked with the actor's life Mynhardt is searingly honest but the honesty is tempered with a self deprecating humor that more often than not makes him the butt of his own jokes In the words of the author My Boy from Bethulie began to take shape in theatre dressing rooms in hotels in pubs and parties These occasions were the scene of my impromptu raconteur performances unplanned and quite unrehearsed given the spontaneity of immediate recollection Mynhardt's storytelling skills that turned his childhood memories into the extraordinarily successful show Boy from Bethulie translate easily onto the page and cover all aspects of his life But most of all the book reveals the many parts of the man who has come to be known as South Africa's Laurence Olivier Boy from Bethulie's first half is a rich evocation of a period and of a wry humane sensibility Mynhardt includes others in his pleasure of recollection Robert Greig Business Day Wherever Patrick went and whatever he said or did Bethulie followed him with interest and admiration Rums van Rensburg Mayor of Bethulie Remembering Bosman: Herman Charles Recollected : Tributes, Memoirs, Sketches, Interviews, 2012 A spellbinding and varied line up of recollections of the star turn of the 20th century South African literary scene Remembering Bosman Herman Charles Bosman Recollected includes detailed memoirs of four of Bosman's keepers of the flame his colleague George Howard his cousin Zita Grov his disciple Lionel Abrahams and the unpublished chapters by his widow Helena Lake never previously collected in book form In addition there are souvenirs by Bosman's other wives and lovers Tributes come from his press associates while much intimate interview material is included to complete this strange portrait of Johannesburg's murderous blue eyed boy Their accumulated testimony here gives as good value as Bosman himself ever did during his embattled lifetime Believing Anita Hill, 2022-09-27 An elegant impassioned demand that America see gender based violence as a cultural and structural problem that hurts everyone not just victims and survivors It's at times downright virtuosic in the threads it weaves together NPR Winner of the 2022 ABA Silver Gavel Award for Books From the woman who gave the landmark testimony against Clarence Thomas as a sexual menace a new manifesto about the origins and course of gender violence in our society a combination of memoir personal accounts law and social analysis and a powerful call to arms from one of our most prominent and poised survivors In 1991 Anita Hill began something that's still unfinished work The issues of gender violence touching on sex race age and power are as urgent today as they were when she first testified Believing is a story of America's three decades long reckoning with gender violence one that offers insights into its roots and paths to creating dialogue and substantive change It is a call to action that offers guidance based on what this brave committed fighter has learned from a lifetime of advocacy and her search for solutions to a problem that is still tearing America apart We once thought gender based violence from casual harassment to rape and murder was an individual problem that affected a few we now know it s cultural and endemic and happens to our acquaintances colleagues friends and family members and it can be physical emotional and verbal Women of color experience sexual harassment at higher rates than White women Street harassment is ubiquitous and can escalate to violence Transgender and nonbinary people are particularly vulnerable Anita Hill draws on her years as a teacher legal scholar and advocate and on the experiences of the thousands of individuals who have told her their stories to trace the pipeline of behavior that follows individuals from place to place from home to school to work and back home In measured clear blunt terms she demonstrates the impact it has on every aspect of our lives including our physical and mental wellbeing housing stability political participation economy and community safety and how our descriptive language undermines progress toward solutions And she is uncompromising in her demands that our laws and our leaders must address the issue concretely and immediately
