Botticelli Le Sacre Et Le Profane:

Botticelli Christian Jamet, Sandro Botticelli, 1996 The Soul of Art Christian Gaillard, 2017-05-17 The beginnings of art are lost in the dim reaches of prehistory eons before humans began recording and codifying their experiences in writing And yet philosophers artists and historians have for centuries noted the intimate and perhaps inseparable relationship between human consciousness and the artistic impulse As analyst and professor Christian Gaillard notes we can see some of the earliest expressions of this intimacy in the cave paintings at Lascaux and the relationship continues to the present day in the works of modern creators such as Jackson Pollock and Anselm Kiefer What fascinates Gaillard and indeed what fascinated Carl Jung is among other things the notion that art enables us to explore our inner landscapes in ways that are impossible by any other means In The Soul of Art Analysis and Creation Gaillard takes readers on a tour of his own gallery of the mind examining works of art from throughout history and prehistory that have moved challenged and changed him He also explores instances where particular works of art have proven deeply significant in his or his colleagues understanding of their analyses and their ability to serve as capable guides on the journey toward self awareness La musique et le rite sacré et profane: Tables rondes International Musicological Society.
