Death, Loss, and Grief in Literature for Youth Alice Crosetto, Rajinder Garcha, 2012-11-21 All human beings encounter loss and death as well as the grief associated with these experiences. It is therefore important for children and adolescents to understand that such events are inevitable and to learn how to accept loss and cope with their emotions. In order to help children through their pain, parents and caregivers need access to the proper resources that will help them discuss these topics, and educational professionals need reliable resources for creating courses of study on these subjects. In Death, Loss, and Grief in Literature for Youth, Alice Crosetto and Rajinder Garcha identify hundreds of resources that will help educators, professionals, parents, siblings, guardians, and students learn about coping with the loss of a loved one and the grief process. These resources include books, Internet sites, and media titles aimed at students and those helping them through the grieving process. Chapters in this volume include fiction and non-fiction titles about the loss of a family member, a friend, and a pet, as well as general reference resources, curricular resources, and websites. Annotations provide complete bibliographical descriptions of the entries, and each entry is identified with the grade levels for which it is best suited. Reviews from recognized publications are also included wherever possible. Anyone interested in locating helpful resources regarding death and grieving will find much of value in this essential tool.

Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping Charles Corr, David Balk, 2010-01-15 Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping is a very well-researched document and well-written by an impressive cadre of scholars. The book is a must-read for marriage and family therapists, clergy, and pediatric care givers whose work intersects the lives of children and the social and environmental systems in which they live. NCFR's Certified Family Life Educators Newsletter features the resource that offers one of the best bibliographies and guides to resources for the book that contains theory, definitions, treatment modalities, helps, warnings, integration of people and programs, cultural diversity, when it comes to all of this, we turn to Charles A. Corr and David E. Balk, editors of Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping. It is a book you must have on your shelf, but don't let it sit there for too long without making good use of it. Illness, Crisis, and Loss: Current filled with sound theory, wise clinical acumen, sound research, terrific resources, and a multicultural perspective, this book will be a necessary resource for clinicians and educators. Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Senior Consultant, The Hospice Foundation of America. Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT, S, Distinguished Professor of Social Work, Emerita
