Children Of Morocco

Helen Ram

Children Of Morocco:

The Children of Morocco Jules Hermes,1995 Presents a journey to Morocco seen through the eyes of some of its children

The Most Beautiful Among the Children of Men Helen Ram,1884      Children's Catalog H.W. Wilson

Company,1917 The 1st ed includes an index to v 28 36 of St Nicholas      Orphans of Islam Jamila Bargach,2002-02-26

Orphans of Islam portrays the abject lives and excluded body of abandoned and bastard children in contemporary Morocco while critiquing the concept and practice of adoption which too often is considered a panacea Through a close and historically grounded reading of legal social and cultural mechanisms of one predominantly Islamic country Jamila Bargach shows how the surplus bastard body is created by mainstream society Written in part from the perspectives of the children and single mothers intermittently from the view of adopting families and employing bastardy as a haunting and empowering motif with a potentially subversive edge this ethnography is composed as an intricate open ended and arabesque like evocation of Moroccan society and its state institutions It equally challenges received sociological and anthropological tropes and understandings of the Arab world      Parental Child Abduction to Islamic Law Countries Nazia Yaqub,2022-10-20

As the world becomes smaller family law is becoming truly global giving rise to more and more questions for private international law This book looks at the sensitive and complex question of child abduction with a unique child rights perspective Taking Islamic law as its case study it delves into child abduction in key jurisdictions from Iran to Saudi Arabia and Libya to Pakistan Rigorous doctrinal analysis is enhanced by empirical insights namely interviews with abductees parents and professionals It is an excellent guide to a complicated field      Illustrated Letters to My Children from the Holy Land Henry Andrew Harper,1880      State party reporting and the realisation of children's rights in Africa Remember Miamingi,2020-01-01 About the publication Human rights norms will largely remain hollow if they are not translated into the lived realities of people on the ground Given the diversity and complexities of human rights norms the arrays of institutions mechanisms and resource required to give full effect to these norms implementation of human rights norms is a continuous and progressive undertaking Progress to be meaningful should have milestones and mechanisms for tracking it The reporting mechanisms are human rights monitoring and evaluation plans and systems to track progressive implementation This book provides an assessment of the reporting mechanisms of child rights treaty bodies It highlights what is working or not working and why making recommendations for further improvement of the reporting mechanism to better work for children in Africa The findings and recommendations in the book are based on a study commissioned by the Centre for Human Rights to assess the effects of reporting to United Nations and African Union child rights treaty bodies on the enjoyment of rights protection and welfare of children in Africa It covers 17 African countries and provides a historical snapshot of the situation as at the end of 2017      Children's Catalog of Thirty-five Hundred Books H.W. Wilson Company,Corinne Bacon,1917

for Children Frances Isabelle M. Kershaw,1883      The Economics of Child Labour Alessandro Cigno,Furio Camillo Rosati,2005-07-28 Children throughout the world are engaged in a great number of activities classifiable as work These range from relatively harmless even laudable activities like helping parents in their domestic chores to morally and physically dangerous ones like soldiering and prostitution If we leave out the former we are left with what are generally called economic activities Only a small minority less than 4 percent of all working children are estimated to be engaged in what ILO defines as the unconditional worst forms of child labour The absolute number of children estimated to be engaged in the latter is however a stunning 8 4 million Should we only be concerned about the worst forms of child labour Most forms of child labour other than the worst ones have valuable learning by doing elements Furthermore child labour produces current income If the family is credit rationed child labour relaxes the liquidity constraint and increases current consumption There is thus a trade off between present and future consumption To the extent that current consumption has a positive effect on future health hence on the child s future earning capacity and more generally utility this trade off may be lower than one might think This book provides a blend of theory empirical analysis and policy discussion The first three chapters develop a fairly comprehensive theory of child labour and related variables such as fertility and infant mortality Chapter 4 concerned with the effects of trade contains both theory and cross country empirical evidence The remaining chapters are country studies aimed at illustrating and testing different aspects of the theory in different geographical contexts These chapters apply the latest developments in microeconomic methodology for dealing with endogeneity unobserved heterogeneity and the evaluation of public intervention      The child countess Sophie Maude,1893      Great and Small. Being Scenes in the Life of Children Madeleine Laroque,1878      Children's Catalog ,1909      The Shoe and Leather Reporter Annual ,1919
