Child Of The War:

Children at War Peter Warren Singer, 2005 An internationally recognized expert on 21st century warfare looks at the use of children as soldiers in more than three quarters of the world's conflicts describing how children are indoctrinated and trained as soldiers and how it can be stopped Illustrations

Children at War P. W. Singer, 2006-04-10 From U S soldiers having to fight children in Afghanistan and Iraq to juvenile terrorists in Sri Lanka to Palestine the new younger face of battle is a terrible reality of 21st century warfare Indeed the very first American soldier killed by hostile fire in the War on Terrorism was shot by a fourteen year old Afghan boy Children at War is the first comprehensive examination of a disturbing and escalating phenomenon the use of children as soldiers around the globe Interweaving explanatory narrative with the voices of child soldiers themselves P W Singer an internationally recognized expert in modern warfare introduces the brutal reality of conflict where children are sent off to fight in war torn hotspots from Colombia and the Sudan to Kashmir and Sierra Leone He explores the evolution of this phenomenon how and why children are recruited indoctrinated trained and converted to soldiers and then lays out the consequences for global security with a special case study on terrorism With this established he lays out the responses that can end this horrible practice What emerges is not only a compelling and clarifying read on the darker reality of modern warfare but also a clear and urgent call for action

Korean War For Kids: A Children's War History Picture Book Bold Kids, 2019-05-15 The Korean War was another significant point in history that not many know about But with this book your child can learn all about this time period and what it meant for society Pick up a copy today to learn more about this and the impact this war had on society

Child of War Ben Chirasha, 1985 A Child's War Kati David, 1989 Children aged 5 to 10 from many countries share their wartime experiences describing their struggles to survive their parents sacrifices and the human potential for cruelty as well as love grade 06 09

One Child's War Victoria Massey, 1978-01-01

A Child's War David L. Gordon, 2009-10 Like thousands of other children in London this eight year old boy with his younger brother were evacuated to the country on the orders of the British Government Two days before the outbreak of World War II on September 1st 1939 they left for the duration of the war separated from their parents and families until the war ended in 1945 apart from rare visits for a few days during this period The author recalls many of his memories and boyhood experiences some horrifying some sad all indelible Memories to remain with him like tens of thousands of other youngsters who went through this traumatic time in World War II

A Child's War Mike Brown, 2011-11-08 When the Second World War broke out in September 1939 it came as no surprise to the children of Germany the Nazis had been preparing them for a war ever since they had come to power in 1933 To British children it was an altogether different matter Children all over Britain were deeply affected by the war many were separated from their parents by evacuation or bereavement all had to make do and mend with clothes and toys and some even died while contributing to the war effort at home In this moving and often amusing account Mike Brown describes what life was like on the Home Front during the war from a child's point of view His fully illustrated narrative includes details of evacuation rationing coping with gas masks and air raids entertainment and the important and often dangerous roles of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides This photographic history pays tribute to the generation of girls and boys who grew up under the shadow of the Second World War War Child Emmanuel Jal,2009-02-03 This extraordinary memoir tells the true story of a former child soldier who survived and escaped a violent life to become Africa's number one hip hop artist and an international ambassador for children in war torn countries One Child's War Hugh Hanafi Hayes,2012-06-01 Hayes offers a fictionalized account of the experiences of one young civilian in England during World War II Diary of a War Child Gertrud Schakat Tammen,2001 Our government ordered women and children to get out NOW Papa Onkel Max and Onkel Richard had to stay to fight the Russians We made plans The next morning we loaded the wagon with hay and bags for four aunts six cousins and Oma Oma and Mama climbed inside Tante Ida clucked to her horses The wagon lurched forward The rest of us pulled scarves over our frozen noses and trudged through the snow beside the wagon The road was cramped with wagons full of people hand pulled carts and even bicycles The wind pinched every nose and pierced every eye We walked for about four weeks before we came to Stolp Mama Eva and I took any train we could Oma and the others kept the wagon They'd keep going west on the icy roads looking for homes in the bombed out towns Nobody said it But we knew we might never see one another again Book jacket Children and War James Marten,2002-08-24 Children have always been involved in warfare This text shows that they have contributed to home front war efforts and that war time experiences have always affected the ways children of war perceive themselves and their societies Under Fire Elizabeth Goodenough,Andrea Immel,2008 Under Fire is an eclectic multidisciplinary collection that explores the representation of war and its aftereffects in children's books and documentary film This richly illustrated volume brings together internationally known contributors to examine the ongoing influence of violence and war on children's literature by studying the childhood experiences of authors writing for children the children represented in war stories and the experiences of children who make up the stories readership Under Fire opens timely avenues in literary studies and encourages those who work with young readers to envision children's studies in new ways The first three sections explore war's effect on children from the Children's Crusade through World War II with a special emphasis on the Holocaust Contributors in these sections pay close attention to the effects of war on the collective memory and consciousness of both children and authors investigating how these experiences serve as fodder for fantasy and as a justification for the abundance of realism in children's books The final section studies in detail children's books and stories from the world renowned Cotsen Collection at Princeton University including C S Lewis's Chronicles of Narnia series and J K Rowling's Harry Potter series Dedicated to the memory of Mitzi Myers Under Fire concludes with a personal essay by Myers who considers the unexpected and long reaching effects of children's literature on her own life Under Fire helps readers to understand why matters of life and death have always been at the heart of enduring works for children Children s studies scholars and students and teachers of children s literature will appreciate this multifaceted and intriguing volume

No Place to Be a Child James Garbarino, Kathleen Kostelny, Nancy Dubrow, 1991 No Place to Be a Child takes readers on a remarkable journey inside the lives of children in Cambodia Mozambique Nicaragua the West Bank and Gaza Strip and inner city Chicago to present heartwrenching true stories of children who live on the front lines How do they cope and adapt And what is the cost to their minds and spirits Photo insert index Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith, Francis Walton, 1916 The Health of the School Child, 1923 Children and War Helga Embacher, 2013

The amount of international research on Children and War carried out by academics governments and non governmental organizations has continually increased in recent years At the same time there has been growing public interest in how children experience military conflicts and how their lives have been affected by war and its aftermath In light of the many brutal post colonialist civil wars or new wars especially in Africa and Asia child soldiers have in particular gained increased attention Simultaneously since the 1990s the history of the Holocaust and World War II has also increasingly been written from the perspective of children those who speak out now and publish their memoirs experienced the Holocaust as children A similar generational change has also taken place in the societies of the perpetrators Germans and Austrians who experienced the war as children took over the role of war witnesses from the soldiers of the German Wehrmacht Moreover intensified focus on children s experiences and their strategies for dealing with what they went through is evident in Eastern Europe as well In Children and War Past and Present scholars from different academic disciplines practitioners in the field and representatives of government and non governmental institutions approach this sensitive subject from different angles and in various methodological ways The book shows how children expressed their experiences in letters memoirs and diaries during and after World War I and World War II and how children remembered those wars Many of the authors also deal with various long term psychological effects Using the example of children s literature in World War I and the representation of child survivors in the postwar cinema another focus of the book is on the representation of children in different wars Based on post colonial and contemporary wars in Africa images of girl and boy soldiers created by the media NGOs and governments as well as trends in how they are represented in contemporary research are also discussed The last section of the book concentrates on various institutions such as welfare organizations and NGOs dealing with children in different wars How have institutions supported children And concerning contemporary conflicts how does the international community face the question of international justice and adapt to children s needs
