150 Years Of Cool Law:

150 Years of Cool Law Merle Francis Wilberding, 2003-01-01 History of law firm in Dayton Ohio from 1853 to 2003

The Dayton Anthology Shannon Shelton Miller, 2021-01-26 Stories poems and essays that pay homage to the innovative spark and high flying spirit that help the Midwest's Gem City survive and thrive A part of Belt's City Anthology Series The Dayton Anthology offers a portrait of a city recovering from the twin 2019 crises of devastating tornadoes and the mass shooting that took the lives of nine residents in the Oregon District In over fifty essays and poems contributors reflect on these traumas and the longer term ills of disinvestment and decay that have plagued Dayton and the Miami Valley for years But they also draw our attention to the resilience of the people who call Dayton home This is the city that brought the world the Wright brothers invention of flight the cash register and the hydraulic pump It also gave us the soaring poetry of Paul Laurence Dunbar and the comedy of Dave Chappelle Edited by Shannon Shelton Miller and with contributions from Dayton Mayor Nan Whaley and former Ohio Governor Bob Taft A delightful tour of a city that never counts itself out that captures the true diversity of Dayton's residents

The Anti-Civil Rights Movement Mike Steve Collins, 2024-10-16 In this deeply researched and powerfully written expos Mike Steve Collins pulls back the curtain on the networks of power and influence that are pulling the strings to undo progress toward a more just and equitable society The efforts of this anti civil rights movement as Collins calls it most recently came to a head on June 23 2023 when the US Supreme Court effectively ended affirmative action in higher education and opened the door to even more regressive policies laws and bans The ruling was the fulfillment of a decades long battle by right wing activists and their networks to divide the country As Collins sees it American society is trapped in a style of thinking and decision making that makes bad choices seem rational Called a prisoner's dilemma by game theorists and a hermeneutic trap by Collins this way of thinking has led to policy choices that make everyone worse off in part by creating hostility between communities that could productively work together and form powerful coalitions The work of the anti civil rights movement led by figures such as Edward Blum and Christopher Rufo has repeatedly found ways to undermine the shared interests of the American people by splitting coalitions and pitting marginalized groups against each other even while claiming and perhaps feeling the highest of motives From racial segregation in the 1960s to the modern boogeyman of critical race theory conservative elites have wielded cultural and political wedges to expand their power to set the political educational and legal agenda Affirmative action has long been a weapon of choice in conservatives arsenal against social progress and few have leveraged it as successfully and detrimentally as Edward Blum In 2014 the year after he helped gut the affirmative action aspect of the Voting Rights Act in Shelby County v Holder Blum created Students for Fair

Admissions and brought a suit against Harvard University for discriminating against Asian Americans A decade later this latest effort in a long string of traps and dilemmas became the Supreme Court case that upended affirmative action Collins's groundbreaking work is a field guide to the personalities, funds, and dilemmas that characterize the ongoing war between the civil rights movement and the anti-civil rights movement between the forces represented by figures such as Thurgood Marshall, a hero of the civil rights movement and his replacement on the Supreme Court Clarence Thomas, a hero of the anti-civil rights movement This book will help readers better understand the battles that have been fought in the past where the next fight might take place and what will be necessary in order to win

Sherwood, 2012-07-27 This book is divided in two parts The first by far the larger is a recording of events in the history of the Sherwood family whose origins lie in the marriage of Frank P. Sherwood and Frances Howell on February 14, 1948 As might be anticipated the first story is about a very happy honeymoon in San Francisco The last story in Part One relates an experience of the family that grew out of the 1948 marriage now numbering 11 people They helped Frank and Frances celebrate their 50th anniversary with a week's outing in Devon, England In between these two quite delightful events there were less welcome occasions when things did not go so well The pets in the family, the experience with smoking, and the family finances also are subjects found in these chronicles Part Two reverts to an earlier period before Frank was married and it is essentially concerned with famous people he encountered as a young man There are brief reports on President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the baseball star Ted Williams, and famed screen actress Ingrid Bergman, all of whom Frank met before his marriage in 1948
