1688 A Global History:

1688 John Elliot Wills,2001 This rich kaleidoscopic history of the world highlighting events in the year 1688 paints a detailed picture of how the global connections of power money and belief were beginning to lend the world its modern form 12 illustrations

1688,2001 1688 John E. Wills,2001 Navigating World History P. Manning,2003-05-15 World history has expanded dramatically in recent years primarily as a teaching field and increasingly as a research field Growing numbers of teachers and Ph Ds in history are required to teach the subject They must be current on topics from human evolution to industrial development in Song dynasty China to today s disease patterns and then link these disparate topics into a coherent course Numerous textbooks in print and in preparation summarize the field of world history at an introductory level But good teaching also requires advanced training for teachers and access to a stream of new research from scholars trained as world historians In this book Patrick Manning provides the first comprehensive overview of the academic field of world history He reviews patterns of research and debate and proposes guidelines for study by teachers and by researchers in world history Gentlemanly Capitalism, Imperialism and Global History S. Akita,2002-10-31 British imperial history can now be seen as a bridge to global history This study tries to renew the debate on British imperialism by combining Western and Asian historiography and constructing a new global history as an aid to the understanding of globalization in the late twentieth and twenty first centuries Part One takes a predominantly metropolitan view of the globalizing forces unleashed by British imperialism Part Two focuses on the international order of East Asia and its connection with gentlemanly capitalism A Global History of Money Akinobu Kuroda,2020-03-23 Looking from the 11th century to the 20th century Kuroda explores how money was used and how currencies evolved in transactions within local communities and in broader trade networks The discussion covers Asia Europe and Africa and highlights an impressive global interconnectedness in the pre modern era as well as the modern age Drawing on a remarkable range of primary and secondary sources Kuroda reveals that cash transactions were not confined to dealings between people occupying different roles in the division of labour for example shopkeepers and farmers rather that peasants were in fact great users of cash even in transactions between themselves The book presents a new categorization framework for aligning exchange transactions with money usage choices This fascinating monograph will be of great interest to advanced students and researchers of economic history financial history global history and monetary studies A Global History Leften Stavros Stavrianos,1983 A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier,2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history Berkshire Encyclopedia of World History, 2005 A comprehensive encyclopedia of world history with 538 articles that trace the development of human history with a focus on area studies global history anthropology geography science arts literature economics women s studies African American studies and cultural studies related to all regions of the world Provided by publisher Applied History and Contemporary Policymaking Robert Crowcroft, 2022-10-06 Robert Crowcroft has assembled a world class international cast of outstanding scholars and international figures to produce a stimulating collection of essays on applied history and policy making With contributors such as Philip Bobbitt Margaret MacMillan and Jeremy Black this collection of essays addresses some of the most important geopolitical challenges confronting the world today From reconstructing collapsed political regimes to security competition in the China Seas and the evolution of Salafi Jihadi ideology it explores a range of statecraft policy and strategy The essays span a number of policy areas and historical problems tackling important questions about what historians do and should do and considering the nature and limits of historical judgement With some examining how applied history can be used to rethink contemporary challenges others explore how it has been used and abused in the past Making a splash in intellectual debate by making a definitive case for Applied History this book demonstrates that a knowledge of the past and the insight it provides is imperative to effective statecraft Empire, The Sea and Global History David Cannadine, 2007-06-28 Between the end of the Seven Years war in 1763 and the abolition of slavery within its Empire in 1833 Britain s maritime engagement with the wider world was transformed The essays in this book explore different aspects of that transformation and in so doing assess the significance and complexities of Britain s maritime world in this key period which was characterized by the contradictory and competing forces of revolution and reaction liberty and imperialism war and peace enlightenment and enslavement They were originally delivered as lectures in a series jointly sponsored by the Institute of Historical Research and by the Centre for Imperial and Maritime Studies at the National Maritime Museum World History Patrick Manning, 2006 The Corporation that Changed the World Nick Robins, 2006-07-20 This is a popular history of one of the world s most famous companies Founded in 1600 the East India Company was the forerunner of the modern multinational Starting life as a trader in Asian spices the Company ended its days running Britain s Indian empire In the process it shocked its contemporaries with the scale of its violence corruption and speculation This is the first ever book to expose the Company s social record Robins reveals a hidden story of tragedy and intrigue War famine stock market bubbles and even duels between rival executives are all to be found in this new account For Robins the Company s legacy provides compelling lessons on how to ensure the accountability of today s global business The Barnes Review, 2002

Conceptualizing Global History Bruce Mazlish, Ralph Buultjens, 1993-09-07 This book examines our entrance into a global epoch and the need for a historical awareness to match that event It attempts to foster a new scholarly perspective a new historical consciousness and a new subfield of history The contributors offer both a theoretical treatment and a number of applied examples of what global history is and how it might be written

Social Studies and the World Merry M. Merryfield, Angene Hopkins Wilson, 2005

Talanta, 2008

The Atlantic in Global History, 1500-2000 Jorge Cañizares-Esguerra, Erik R. Seeman, 2007 This reader composed of original essays by leading authors expands the category of the Atlantic chronologically spatially and methodologically It firmly places the Atlantic within global history and the coverage expands into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The essays present events that formed the nations and cultures of the Atlantic region and show their global roots and how they intertwine with non Atlantic communities of the world

Success Is Never Final Geoffrey Parker, 2002-04-17 Failure fascinates historians especially when it follows fast on the heels of victory In ten provocative essays Geoffrey Parker chronicles notable moments in fifteenth sixteenth and seventeenth century Europe when defeat was snatched from the jaws of victory He paints a broad picture of empire war and religion in the early modern world Parker groups his material into three sections In the first he examines the rise and fall of the first global empire the Spanish Empire In the second he shows how the spread of the Western military innovation triggered resistance stronger than it could overcome Finally he tells of the failure of the Reformation to grow beyond its original urban milieu Success Is Never Final offers a rich and original view of the fluctuations of power in early modern Europe and bold new thinking from one of our master historians

Empire, War and Faith in Early Modern Europe Geoffrey Parker, 2002 Failure is fascinating partly because it is so common In the 20th century Enoch Powell claimed that All political lives end in failure while according the Winston Churchill Success is never final This has always been true Geoffrey Parker s new book examines ten cases from the history of Europe in the 16th and 17th centuries of defeat snatched from the jaws of victory
