Crandall, Susan M. Crandall, 2015-07-25 Archaeological digs have turned up sculptures in Inuit lands that are thousands of years old but Inuit art as it is known today only dates back to the beginning of the 1900s Early art was traditionally produced from soft materials such as whalebone and tools and objects were also fashioned out of stone bone and ivory because these materials were readily available The Inuit people are known not just for their sculpture but for their graphic art as well the most prominent forms being lithographs and stonecuts This work affords easy access to information to those interested in any type of Inuit art There are annotated entries on over 3 761 articles books catalogues government documents and other publications Law, Ethics, and the Visual Arts John Henry Merryman, Albert Edward Elsen, Stephen K. Urice, 2007-01-01 This book describes the collisions between the art world and the law with a critical eye through a combination of primary source materials excerpts from professional and art journals and extensive textual notes Topics analysed include the fate of works of art in wartime the international trade in stolen and illegally exported cultural property artistic freedom censorship and state support for art and artists copyright droit moral and droit de suite the artist s professional life and death collectors in the art market income and estate taxation charitable donations and works of art and art museums and their collections The authors are recognised experts in the field who have defined the canon in many aspects of art law

The Emergence of the Antique and Curiosity Dealer in Britain 1815-1850 Mark Westgarth,2020-04-07 Rather than the customary focus on the activities of individual collectors The Emergence of the Antique and Curiosity Dealer in Britain 1815 1850 The Commodification of Historical Objects illuminates the less studied roles played by dealers in the nineteenth century antique and curiosity markets Set against the recent art market turn in scholarly literature this volume examines the role activities agency and influence of antique and curiosity dealers as they emerged in the opening decades of the nineteenth century This study begins at the end of the Napoleonic Wars when dealers began their wholesale importations of historical objects it closes during the 1850s after which the trade became increasingly specialised reflecting the rise of historical museums such as the South Kensington Museum V A Focusing on the archive of the early nineteenth century London dealer John Coleman Isaac c 1803 1887 as well as drawing on a wide range of other archival and contextual material Mark Westgarth considers the emergence of the dealer in relation to a broad historical and cultural landscape The emergence of the antique and curiosity dealer was part of the rapid economic social political and cultural change of early nineteenth century Britain centred around ideas of antiquarianism the commercialisation of culture and a distinctive and evolving interest in historical objects This book will be of interest to scholars in art history histories of collecting museum and heritage studies and nineteenth century culture
