

Seminars in Orthodontics

VOL 1, NO 1

MARCH 1995

Introduction

The evolution of orthodontics is proceeding at an accelerated rate. We are now able to offer our patients treatment possibilities and outcomes that were not available in the recent past. We are also in an era of rapidly increasing new scientific data. The rate of technological advancement and sophistication is unprecedented. Equipment and materials that are available for our use are also undergoing change and improvement.

All of these developments impact directly on the clinical orthodontist as diagnostic procedures, treatment modalities, and expected outcomes are evolving and improving. The expectations of our patients are also greater. The rate at which new information is becoming available and the resultant changes in patient management that follow place an increasing burden on the clinical orthodontist who is attempting to keep abreast of all of these innovations. A noted academician, teacher, and clinician recently stated, "Information is the coin of the realm."

The goal of Seminars in Orthodontics will be to synthesize and correlate new information into an easily readable and digestible format. Seminars in Orthodontics, which will be published quarterly, will focus on one topic in each issue. Knowledgeable authors will contribute articles containing current pertinent information on the selected topic. In this manner a single topic will be addressed in-depth from various authors' perspectives in a single issue. Each issue of Seminars in Orthodontics will be the equivalent of a mini-symposium on the topic. Efforts will be made to separate scientifically based information from anecdotal opinion.

Topics already scheduled for publication in Seminars in Orthodontics include "Biomechanics and Appliance Design," guest editor Robert J. Isaacson; "The Relevance of Facial Esthetics to Orthodontics," guest editor Sheldon Peck; "Early Treatment of Malocclusion," guest editor Gregory J. King; "Temporomandibular Joint Dysfunction," guest editor Daniel M. Laskin; and "Orthodontics/Periodontics," guest editor Bjorn U. Zachrisson. Each journal issue will contain articles written by knowledgeable contributing authors.

We are very pleased with this innovative addition to the orthodontic literature and also with the enthusiastic acceptance of the many recognized experts who have agreed to serve on our Editorial Board. Their expertise will guarantee the ongoing excellence of Seminars in Orthodontics. We believe that Seminars in Orthodontics will enhance the readers' information database and provide in a user friendly format essential information for the clinical orthodontist, the academician, and the student of orthodontics.

Fleddermann, 2005 The last fifty years have witnessed a remarkable renaissance in Q studies with scholars probing every aspect of the Q hypothesis from the existence and extent of Q to the reconstruction of the original text and the place of the document in the history of early Christianity The time seems ripe for a major commentary on Q to consolidate and extend the discussion of this important document that Matthew and Luke incorporated into their gospels Q A Reconstruction and Commentary contains an argued reconstruction of the original Greek text of Q and a commentary on the reconstructed text along with an introduction that explores all of the main questions that swirl around the Q hypothesis Excavating Q John S. Kloppenborg, 2000 In this tour de force the author offers a comprehensive introduction to the study of Q the collection of Jesus sayings long hypothesized as the source for the canonical gospels of Matthew and Luke Part I deals with the methods for studying Q their presuppositions and a survey of current research Part II addresses more theological and theoretical issues relevant to the Synoptic Problem Q as a document its redaction and its social setting Matthew and the Margins Warren Carter, 2005-02-15 This detailed commentary presents the gospel of Matthew as a counter narrative showing that it is a work of resistance written from and for a minority community of disciples committed to Jesus the agent of God's saving presence It was written and functions to shape the identity and lifestyle of the early community of Jesus followers as an alternative community that can resist the dominant authorities both in Rome and in the synagogue The Gospel anticipates the time when Jesus will return and establish God's reign over all including the powers in Rome The 1995 NLC National Education Seminar papers and proceedings, 1996 Conflicted Boundaries in Wisdom and Apocalypticism Lawrence Mitchell Wills, Benjamin G. Wright, 2005 The notion that wisdom and apocalypticism represent fundamentally different and mutually exclusive categories of genre and worldview in early Jewish and Christian literature persists in current scholarship The essays in this volume the work of the Wisdom and Apocalypticism Group of the Society of Biblical Literature challenge that generally held view as they explore the social locations and scholarly constructions of these literatures and discover an ancient reality of more porous categories and complex interrelationships The volume draws on a broad range of Jewish and Christian texts including 1 Enoch Sirach 4QInstruction Psalms of Solomon James Revelation and Barnabas From publisher s description Litigating Product Liability ,1995 Kokuritsu Kokkai Toshokan shozō kagaku gijutsu kankei Ōbun kaigi-roku mokuroku Kokuritsu Kokkai Toshokan (Japan),1997
