Between Client and Community Bertha Capen Reynolds, 1939 Between Client and Community Bertha Capen Reynolds, 1973 The Routledge Handbook of Critical Pedagogies for Social Work Christine Morley, Phillip Ablett, Carolyn Noble, Stephen Cowden, 2020-01-20

The Routledge Handbook of Critical Pedagogies for Social Work traverses new territory by providing a cutting edge overview of the work of classic and contemporary theorists in a way that expands their application and utility in social work education and practice thus providing a bridge between critical theory philosophy and social work. Each chapter showcases the work of a specific critical educational philosophical and or social theorist including Henry Giroux, Michel Foucault, Cornelius Castoriadis, Herbert Marcuse, Paulo Freire, bell hooks, Joan Tronto, Iris Marion Young, Karl Marx, Antonio Gramsci and many others to elucidate the ways in which their key pedagogic concepts can be applied to specific aspects of social work education and practice. The text exhibits a range of research based approaches to educating social work practitioners as agents of social change. It provides a robust and much needed alternative paradigm to the technique driven conservative revolution currently being fostered by neoliberalism in both social work education and practice. The volume will be instructive for social work educators who aim to teach for social change by assisting students to develop counter hegemonic practices of resistance and agency and reflecting on the pedagogic role of social work practice more widely. The volume holds relevance for both postgraduate and undergraduate qualifying social work and human services courses around the world.

The Life Model of Social Work Practice Alex Gitterman, Carel B. Germain, 2008-05-27

Originally published in 1980 this seminal work was the first to introduce an ecological perspective into social work practice. The third edition expands and deepens this perspective further developing the basic premise that by being situated within the people environment interface the social work profession is distinct from other service professions. The book presents the what theories and concepts and the how practice methods to help people with their life stressors and simultaneously to influence communities organizations and policymakers to be more responsive to them. In this edition Gitterman and Germain examine major changes to our socioeconomic and political landscape. They restore a chapter on the history of social work practice offering a view of the limited services for African Americans provided by settlements and charity organization societies. Building on the African American self help and mutual aid traditions this chapter traces the replication of a parallel social service system by African American leaders for their own communities. The chapter also addresses the impact of contemporary societal trends including the global economy immigration cultural changes and the technology revolution. In addition it discusses current professional contexts of managed mental health care evidence based practice and the professional uses of technology. A new chapter explores issues and processes embedded in assessment practice monitoring and practice evaluation. The volume continues to feature innovative schema for assessment and intervention with respect to stressful life transitions and traumatic events environmental pressures and dysfunctional interpersonal processes.
