Deadly Autumn:

Silent Spring - Deadly Autumn of the Vietnam War Patrick Hogan, 2018-09-23 Official U S government archives contain the files of more than 58 280 U S service personnel who died in Vietnam They were considered the ultimate casualties of that war In addition scores more 300 000 plus were recorded as injured or maimed Regrettably not chronicled in those sobering statistics are the tens of thousands of soldiers marines and sailors who were injured or killed as a result of the Vietnam War but didn t realize it at the time Ever since the end of the Vietnam War the U S government the DVA and the Department of Defense DOD have denied obstructed and rebuffed almost all attempts at etiologically or medically linking any of our illnesses and disorders with Agent Orange or with any of the other less publicized but just as deadly pesticides deployed during the war Our government and DVA continue their denials and obstructive actions with policies and procedures for which their mantra could very well be Deny deny until they all die Our pesticide and toxic chemical exposures in Vietnam was not a one size fits all problem nor do they have a one size fits all solution It was rather a collection of deliberate ill advised governmental military decisions that exposed me and every other person stationed in Vietnam to complex mixtures of biologically complicated and entwined very injurious and harmful substances unfriendly environmental conditions to say the least and extraordinarily intricate stressors without adequate studies protection or safeguards being put into place beforehand Silent Spring Deadly Autumn of the Vietnam War contains documents medical reports journal articles and letters confirming and outlining the inappropriate behavior and actions of administrative officials as well as politically sanctioned cover ups and deliberate interference with Agent Orange research and studies letters such as the 1988 communication from Dr James R Clary a former government scientist with the Chemical Weapons Branch to Senator Tom Daschle letters and records that document the downplaying of all the illnesses and disorders caused by the several pesticides and numerous chemicals aerosolized in Vietnam

Deadly Autumn Rod McFain, 2003-09-02 The year is 1874 Gray Wehr a man burdened with a deserved but unsought reputation with a gun is contentedly making a life in High Meadows a beautiful little town in the Bighorn Mountains when a cry for justice disturbs his tranquil life Word of the Indian capture and imminent torture of the daughter in law and small grandchildren of an old friend leads Wehr to an agonizing decision Should he leave the pursuit and capture the kidnappers to what little law there might be Should he respect the Sioux treaty and stay out of Indian land Should he honor his life long devotion to justice and friendship Deadly Autumn presents strong characters both male and female in a rugged historically accurate western setting Deadly Autumn is a story of devotion loyalty and justice It is a tale of individual heroism and of cruelty It is both uplifting and achingly moving
