author concludes from this study that the text of the Bible is undoubtedly completely accurate from a scientific perspective

George Drettakis,Nelson Max,1998-08-11 Some of the best current research on realistic rendering is included in this volume

It emphasizes the current hot topics in this field image based rendering and efficient local and global illumination calculations In the first of these areas there are several contributions on real world model acquisition and display on using image based techniques for illumination and on efficient ways to parameterize and compress images or light fields as well as on clever uses of texture and compositing hardware to achieve image warping and 3D surface textures In global and local illumination there are contributions on extending the techniques beyond diffuse reflections to include specular and more general angle dependent reflection functions on efficiently representing and approximating these reflection functions on representing light sources and on approximating visibility and shadows Finally there are two contributions on how to use knowledge about human perception to concentrate the work of accurate rendering only where it will be noticed and a survey of computer graphics techniques used in the production of a feature length computer animated film with full 3D characters
