The Jewish Imperial Imagination Yaniv Feller,2023-11-09 Leo Baeck 1873 1956 was a rabbi public intellectual and the official leader of German Jewry during the Holocaust The Jewish Imperial Imagination shows the myriad ways in which the German imperial enterprise left its imprint on his religious and political thought and on modern Judaism more generally This book is the first to explore Baeck s religious thought as political and situate it within the imperial context of the period which is often ignored in discussions of modern Jewish thought Baeck s work during the Holocaust is analysed in depth drawing on unpublished manuscripts written in Nazi Germany and in the Theresienstadt Ghetto In the process Yaniv Feller raises new questions about the nature of Jewish missionizing and the German Jewish imagination of the East as a space for colonisation He thus develops the concept of the Jewish imperial imagination moving beyond a simple dichotomy of ascribing to or resisting hegemonic narratives

European Culture in the Great War Aviel Roshwald,Richard Stites,2002-02-14 It is commonplace to refer to the First World War as an historical watershed but the nature of that great cataclysm s impact upon European society and culture remains a hotly debated topic Many recent works have dealt with the Great War s role in shaping artistic and intellectual modernism and with the social history of the war Yet the English language literature remains dominated by a disproportionate emphasis on the western European experience This book redresses the balance by giving equal attention to the countries of eastern and central Europe and distinguishes itself by focusing specifically on cultural change during the course of the war as distinct from the after effects and memories of the conflict

Melancholy Pride Mark H. Gelber,2000 This study attempts to analyze the multi faceted and complicated relationship between the Central European Germanic Austrian cultural milieu and the Jewish national literature and culture which evolved within it at the turn of the last century Issues regarding the construction and differentiation of a modern Jewish national identity and culture as an aspect of Cultural Zionism are central to this project as are the problematical literary and cultural partnerships forged in an age of rising racialist thought growing feminist consciousness and increasing secularism
