The Beginnings of Plant Hybridization Conway Zirkle, 2016-11-11 A review of speculation on plant hybridization from classical times up to the early eighteenth century reprinting the work of twenty nine plant hybridizers who preceded Koelreuter Hybrid Noel Kingsbury, 2011-11-15 Noel Kingsbury reveals that even those imaginary perfect foods are themselves far from anything that could properly be called natural rather they represent the end of a millennia long history of selective breeding and hybridization Starting his story at the birth of agriculture Kingsbury traces the history of human attempts to make plants more reliable productive and nutritious a story that owes as much to accident and error as to innovation and experiment Drawing on historical and scientific accounts as well as a rich trove of anecdotes Kingsbury shows how scientists amateur breeders and countless anonymous farmers and gardeners slowly caused the evolutionary pressures of nature to be supplanted by those of human needs and thus led us from sparse wild grasses to succulent corn cobs and from mealy white wild carrots to the juicy vegetables we enjoy today At the same time Kingsbury reminds us that contemporary controversies over the Green Revolution and genetically modified crops are not new plant breeding has always had a political dimension Publisher s description The Natural History of Plants Anton Kerner von Marilaun, 1895 An Outline of the History of Phytopathology Herbert Hice Whetzel, 1918 The Eclectic , 1871 A History of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 1827-1927 James Boyd, 1929 Bulletin - Vermont Agricultural Experiment Station , 1916
