

The aim of the book is to define selected problems of neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), business and consumer behaviour, and to explore them in their interrelationships. The research is based on a current understanding of the field with an emphasis on development in managerial practice. The publication is divided into five chapters. The first chapter describes the context of neuro-linguistic programming, its techniques and possibilities of usage. The second chapter focuses on consumer behaviour. The possibility of consumers' time decisions and individualism. The third chapter focuses on the issue of business behaviour. It characterizes businesses, their generation in terms of the Big Five model, and tests of business behaviour in terms of ethics. In the fourth chapter, NLP is connected with business behaviour, showing the possibilities of using NLP in business. The fifth chapter is devoted to the content conclusion, using the NLP methodology to increase the consumers' sensitivity and connect the results to previous research. The book will enrich the knowledge of business and consumer behaviour using NLP methodology and cover important for new research.
