attacks even cancer many more people are going to live into the dementia years in the near future Although many dementia horror stories circulate in conversation and in the media they are not the whole story Creative approaches to loving a dementia patient can make for a valuable learning experience for family and caregivers In The Long Goodbye Margaret Miles describes her commitment to making rather than passively suffering her spouse's dementia experience Family and friends who accompany patients find embedded in the experience moments of great beauty hilariously funny incidents new companions and life insights The narrative provides both a travelogue and suggestions for a richly meaningful life passage for all participants The Long Goodbye seeks to supply a balanced picture of a disease usually represented as unmitigated loss

The Creative Crone Sylvia Henneberg, 2010 Henneberg shows how these writers offer radically different but richly complementary strategies for breaking the silence surrounding age Rich provides an approach to aging so strongly intertwined with other political issues that its complexity may keep us from immediately identifying age as one of her chief concerns On the other hand Sarton's direct treatment of aging sensitizes us to its importance and helps us see its significance in such writings as Rich's Meanwhile Rich's efforts to politicize age create stimulating contexts for Sarton's work Henneberg explores elements of these writers' individual poems that develop themes of aging including imagery and symbol the construction of a persona and the uses of rhythms to reinforce the themes She also includes analyses of their fiction and nonfiction works and draws ideas from age studies by scholars such as Margaret Morganroth Gullette Kathleen Woodward and Thomas Cole From publisher description New Poems, 1974 The Poems of Sir Walter Raleigh Sir Walter Raleigh, 1892 *English lyric poetry, 1500-1700, with an intr. by F.I. Conversations with May Sarton May Sarton, 1991 With increasing candor and openness May Sarton's conversations have given an intimate view of her honest courageous inner life Best known to her many readers as a novelist and keeper of journals Sarton sees herself pre-eminently as a poet In the interviews collected here she speaks forthrightly about herself her independence and her writing Although born in Belgium Sarton is quintessentially American in her choice of solitude on which her personal well-being and writing depend She is a modernist who has defined herself as an artist with the occasionally painful recognition that all else must finally be subordinated to her writing Her journal After the Stroke makes clear that when she cannot write she stands on the edge of the abyss of nonbeing These interviews offer Sartre's readers the model of a woman who has supported herself as a writer of achievement who has made her way without the comforts of academic tenure grants or bestseller listings     A Durable Fire Meg Campbell, 1982
