Data-based Decision Making in Education Kim Schildkamp, Mei Kuin Lai, Lorna Earl, 2012-09-17 In a context where schools are held more and more accountable for the education they provide data based decision making has become increasingly important This book brings together scholars from several countries to examine data based decision making Data based decision making in this book refers to making decisions based on a broad range of evidence such as scores on students assessments classroom observations etc This book supports policy makers people working with schools researchers and school leaders and teachers in the use of data by bringing together the current research conducted on data use across multiple countries into a single volume Some of these studies are best practice studies where effective data use has led to improvements in student learning Others provide insight into challenges in both policy and practice environments Each of them draws on research and literature in the field

Data-driven Decisions and School Leadership Theodore J. Kowalski, Thomas J. Lasley, James W. Mahoney, 2008 This book integrates theory and practice in decision making with a specific focus on data driven decision making Applications are demonstrated in the contexts of administration supervision and teaching The book provides a unique contribution to the literature in this field in that the studies of decision theory and data based decision making are integrated Focusing on educators assuming leadership roles in school improvement the book s content is equally relevant for administrators supervisors and teachers The book however is centered on data driven decision making both as a requirement of the No Child Left Behind Act and as a normative professional standard Issues related to accumulating storing and protecting data in districts and schools also are covered Applications in administration supervision and teaching are demonstrated

Tools and Techniques for Effective Data-driven Decision Making Philip Alan Streifer, 2004 With the new federal law No Child Left Behind there is ever increasing pressure on schools to be accountable for improving student achievement That pressure is taking the form of focused efforts around data driven decision making However very little is known about what data driven decision making can really tell one about improving achievement nor is there a full explanation available about what it really takes to do this work The few examples that do exist while proposing to get at some of these issues make huge assumptions about educators knowledge base and available resources necessary for success In this book Philip Streifer fills the gaps by laying out how this work can be done and then explains what is knowable when one actually conducts these analyses and what follow up steps are needed to make true improvements He provides readers with a comprehensive understanding of what data driven decision making can and cannot tell educators about student achievement and addresses the related issues for leadership policy development and accountability Senior level district administration for policy development school level administrators who have to put policy into practice and graduate college professors teaching data driven decision making will find this book most useful

Data-driven Decision Making Chris O'Neal,2012 This workbook will serve as your guide to incorporating the data driven decision making process into your organization s culture and behavior The best part is you don t have to be a techie or a number cruncher to follow along The information and concepts are presented thoughtfully and in clear language so that all involved can understand O Neal leads you through setting up teams warehousing accessing and examining data and finally reflecting on your process The many worksheets in each chapter will help you put what you read into practice quickly and effectively Understand what s happening in your school environment and how you can make better decisions that will keep you on a path to success
