Data Structures With Abstract And Ada:

Data Structures with Abstract Data Types and Ada Daniel F. Stubbs, Neil W. Webre, 1993 The only modern data structures book implemented in Ada covers data structures first in terms of specifications followed by implementation then by performance issues The organization moves from the more basic structures to the more advanced structures The book contains examples coded in Ada and content specially tailored to the features and capabilities of the language Ada Plus Data Structures: An Object Oriented Approach, 2/E Dale, 2008-01-01 Ada Plus Data Structures is the most up to date student friendly Ada text available The text introduces and discusses such familiar topics as strings sets stacks queues lists trees graphs and much more The recurring theme throughout the text is modeling with levels of abstraction presenting each class from three different perspectives their specification their abstraction and their implementation Using this approach the authors stress computer science theory and software engineering principles including information hiding data encapsulation data abstraction stepwise refinement and visual aids With its Object Oriented presentation real world applications and traditional Dale Pedagogy Ada Plus Data Structures is a pleasure to read and learn from New and key features Dale and McCormick provide an accessible introduction to object oriented design methodologies balanced with a clear presentation of traditional abstract data types computer science theory and software engineering practices Unified Modeling Language UML class diagrams and object oriented approaches are used throughout the book Expanded coverage of hashing Reviews of principle Ada constructs are included within the text as a refresher for students Includes the object operation syntax as an alternative to the traditional package operation syntax for invoking class operations Introduces the Ada container class library Many new chapter exercises and programming problems Data Abstraction And Program Design R Ellis, 1997-01-14 This student text explores large scale program design in the object oriented paradigm with an emphasis on data abstraction It assumes knowledge of an imperative language such as PASCAL and provides examples in C and ADA

Introduction to Abstract Data Types Using ADA Bruce Hillam, 1994 Designed for C52 or Data Structures course using Ada The movement away from Pascal as the introductory programming language and the re emergence of Ada makes this text timely Outstanding reviews of coverage of recursion narrative and style considered informative and motivating

Data Structures and Algorithms John Beidler, 2012-12-06 This textbook provides an in depth course on data structures in the context of object oriented development Its main themes are abstraction implementation encapsulation and measurement that is that the software process begins with abstraction of data types which then lead to alternate representations and encapsulation and finally to resource measurement A clear object oriented approach making use of Booch components will provide readers with a useful library of data structure components and experience in software reuse Students using this book are expected to have a reasonable understanding of the basic logical structures such as stacks and queues Throughout Ada 95 is used and the author takes full advantage of Ada s encapsulation features and the ability to present specifications without implementational details Ada code is supported by two suites available over the World Wide Web Data Structures with Abstract Data Types and Pascal Daniel F. Stubbs, Neil W. Webre, 1989 Abstract Types, Ada Packages, and the Teaching of Data Structures Michael B. Feldman, George Washington University. Wing, 2013-11-11 The papers in this volume were presented at the First International Workshop on Larch held at MIT Endicott House near Boston on 13-15 July 1992 Larch is a family of formal specification languages and tools and this workshop was a forum for those who have designed the Larch languages built tool support for them particularly the Larch Prover and used them to specify and reason about software and hardware systems The Larch Project started in 1980 led by John Guttag at MIT and James Horning then at Xerox Palo Alto Research Center and now at Digital Equipment Corporation Systems Research Center DEC SRC Major applications have included VLSI circuit synthesis medical device communications compiler development and concurrent systems based on Lamport's TLA as well as several applications to classical theorem proving and algebraic specification Larch supports a two tiered approach to specifying software and hardware modules One tier of a specification is written in the Larch Shared Language LSL An LSL specification describes mathematical abstractions such as sets relations and algebras its semantics is defined in terms of first order theories The second tier is written in a Larch interface language one designed for a specific programming language An interface specification describes the effects of individual modules e.g. state changes resource allocation and exceptions its semantics is defined in terms of first order predicates over two states where state is defined in terms of the programming language's notion of state Thus LSL is programming language independent a Larch interface language is programming language dependent Symbolic and Algebraic Computation Patrizia Gianni, 1989-08-23 The ISSAC 88 is the thirteenth conference in a sequence of international events started in 1966 thanks to the then established ACM Special Interest Group on Symbolic and Algebraic Manipulation SIGSAM For the first time the two annual conferences International Symposium on Symbolic and Algebraic Computation ISSAC and International Conference on Applied Algebra Algebraic Algorithms and Error Correcting Codes AAECC have taken place as a Joint Conference in Rome July 4-8 1988 Twelve invited papers on subjects of common interest for the two conferences are included in the proceedings and divided between this volume and the preceding volume of Lecture Notes in Computer Science which is devoted to AAECC 6 This book contains contributions on the following topics Symbolic Algebraic and Analytical Algorithms Automatic Theorem Proving Automatic Programming Computational Geometry Problem Representation and Solution Languages and Systems for Symbolic Computation Applications to Sciences Engineering and Education Data Structures with Ada Michael B.
