Das Schloss:

At the Limit of the Obscene Erica Weitzman, 2021-02-15 As German language literature turned in the mid nineteenth century to the depiction of the profane sensual world a corresponding anxiety emerged about the terms of that depiction with consequences not only for realist poetics but also for the conception of the material world itself At the Limit of the Obscene examines the roots and repercussions of this anxiety in German realist and postrealist literature Through analyses of works by Adalbert Stifter Gustav Freytag Theodor Fontane Arno Holz Gottfried Benn and Franz Kafka Erica Weitzman shows how German realism's conflicted representations of the material world lead to an idea of the obscene as an excess of sensual appearance beyond human meaning the obverse of the anthropocentric worldview that German realism both propagates and pushes to its crisis At the Limit of the Obscene thus brings to light the troubled and troubling ontology underlying German realism at the same time demonstrating how its works continue to shape our ideas about representability alterity and the relationship of human beings to the non human well into the present day

Passive Voices (On the Subject of Phenomenology and Other Figures of Speech) Kristina Mendicino, 2023-02-01 At least since Aristotle's Peri hermeneias there has been talk of the pathos of language of language as symbols of the affections in the soul The way these affections are registered however suggests that they are themselves structured like language For Aristotle and others language is suffered before any sense can be voiced The pathos of language thus becomes a question of how language affects the subject of speech and in the last analysis of how language could respond to these questions of language Passive Voices On the Subject of Phenomenology and Other Figures of Speech approaches these questions first through readings of Augustine's investigations into language and mind and Edmund Husserl's descriptions of passive synthesis It then traces the further resonance of Augustine's and Husserl's interventions in selected literary experiments by Georges Bataille Franz Kafka and Maurice Blanchot that recall Husserl and Augustine while exceeding the restrictive fictions of phenomenological science In drawing out the echoes that emerge across confessional philosophical and fictional writings this book exposes the ways in which speech occurs in the passive voice and affects any claim to experience
