David Salle David Salle, Robert Miller Gallery (New York, N.Y.), 1991      David Salle David Salle, 1991      David Salle David Salle, Klaus Kertess, Mary Boone Gallery (New York, N.Y.), 2010      David Salle Karen Marta, 2013 In the 1980s American artist David Salle born 1952 played a crucial role in the formulation of postmodernism in art helping to reestablish painting as a dominant force Often thought to use only found imagery Salle actually derived much of his early work from live movement events that he staged specifically for the paintings For his 1992 series Ghost Paintings Salle took photographs of his longtime model Beverly Eaby creating graceful improvised movements with a bedsheet then printing the images on linen and painting over them with horizontal fields of intense color This new volume with full color spreads of the 16 never before seen Ghost Paintings reveals Salle's practice of incorporating photography and performance art into his paintings It includes the black and white photographs the artist took for this series as well as documentation of other performances      David Salle David Salle, Massimo Audiello, 1997 The work of the painter and stage designer David Salle is presented in this monograph from Charta      David Salle Diego Cortez, David Salle, 1994      The Pictures Generation, 1974-1984 Douglas Eklund, 2009 Image art after Conceptualism CalArts Hallwalls and Artists Space The jump appropriation and its discontents His gesture moved us to tears pictures art in a reinvigorated market      David Salle: Tree of Life Bernard Blistène, 2023-09-05 Salle's new allegorical painting cycle identifies the tree as an image of collective experience Pictures Generation painter printmaker photographer and stage designer David Salle born 1952 began painting his Tree of Life series in 2019 These compositions are structured around brightly colored trees that simultaneously conceal and compose the scene unfolding behind them Acting as a spine or an anchor they appear to condition the interactions of the characters on either side held in place as they are by the branching structure The characters are borrowed from Peter Arno's midcentury illustrations for the New Yorker The motif of the tree reverberates throughout the history of art and Salle identifies the tree as a form of collective experience a lineage of which we are all a part This concise volume showcases these new paintings the culmination of the celebrated Tree of Life series      Juergen Teller, Tracht Juergen Teller, 2001 Available in an extremely limited edition Tracht is based on photographer Juergen Teller's Miss World project in which he took portraits of the contestants from each country during the 1999 pageant These close ups are printed with spectacular glossy precision that convey the feeling of prints themselves Bound in a linen cover and slipcased each copy has 76 color plates and is signed and numbered by the artist      David Salle Rudi Fuchs, David Salle, Gagosian Gallery, 1992 David Salle born in 1952 is an American painter and leading contemporary figurative artist His paintings and drawings comprise what appear to be randomly juxtaposed images or images painted and drawn on top of each other with deliberately clumsy paint handling This volume is a partial portfolio of his work shown in exhibitions held in New York and the Netherlands in 1992      David Salle , 2015-04-30 Published on the occasion of the exhibition David Salle New Paintings at Skarstedt New York This exhibition and

catalogue feature two new bodies of work by artist David Salle Late Product Paintings and Silver Paintings The catalogue includes full plate images as well as studio images and an interview between David and Bill Powers David Salle Janet Kardon, University of Pennsylvania. Institute of Contemporary Art, 1986 This volume is a collection of works by American painter David Salle b 1952 who helped define the post modern sensibility by combining figuration with an extremely varied pictorial language The works in this book are derived from the catalog of an exhibition held at the Institute of Contemporary Art University of Pennsylvania Philadelphia Pa Oct 9 Nov 30 1986 and at other North American locations through 1988 Salle s paintings comprise what appear to be randomly juxtaposed images or images painted on top of each other with deliberately primitive paint handling Typical of Salle s style are his deadpan use of imagery and techniques appropriated from Old Master and modernist works and of apparently unrelated images sometimes highly erotic figures of women superimposed on one another In addition his usually large canvases often represent a mixture of figuration and abstraction and of painting and collage techniques American Photo, 1994-09 David Salle David Salle, Ronald Jones, Gagosian Gallery, 2001 This catalogue examines David Salle s recent Pastoral series the central focus of which is a seemingly generic scene of two tentative lovers done in the classical style Using this scene as a basis Salle floats images which are painted silk screened or drawn on the same canvas on adjacent panels or inserted as separate canvases into the painting s surface New York Magazine, 1984-04-09 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Young Americans 2 Brooks Adams, Saatchi Gallery, 1998 Text by Brooke Adams This important catalog from the collection of the Saatchi Gallery presents all new recent work from young American artists such as John Currin Elizabeth Peyton Jessica Stockholder and Jessica Diamond Hot Art, Cold War - Western and Northern European Writing on American Art 1945-1990 Claudia Hopkins, Iain Boyd Whyte, 2020-09-17 Hot Art Cold War Northern and Western European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is one of two text anthologies that trace the reception of American art in Europe during the Cold War era through primary sources With the exception of those originally published in English the majority of these texts are translated into English for the first time from eight languages and are introduced by scholarly essays They offer a representative selection of the diverse responses to American art in Great Britain Ireland France Belgium the Netherlands West Germany FRG Austria Switzerland Denmark Norway Sweden and Finland There was no single European discourse as attitudes to American art were determined by a wide range of ideological political social cultural and artistic positions that varied considerably across the European nations This volume and its companion Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 offer the reader a unique opportunity to compare how European art writers introduced and explained contemporary American art to their many and varied audiences Whilst many are fluent in one or two foreign languages few are able to read all twenty five languages represented in the two volumes These ground breaking publications significantly enrich the fields of American art studies and European art criticism This book together with its companion volume Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is a joint initiative of the Terra Foundation for American Art and the editors of the journal Art in Translation at the University of Edinburgh The journal launched in 2009 publishes English language translations of the most significant texts on art and visual cultures presently only available only in their source language It is committed to widening the perspectives of art history making it more pluralist in terms of its authors viewpoints and subject matter

How to See David Salle, 2016-10-18 If John Berger's Ways of Seeing is a classic of art criticism looking at the what of art then David Salle's How to See is the artist's reply a brilliant series of reflections on how artists think when they make their work The how of art has perhaps never been better explored Salman Rushdie How does art work How does it move us inform us challenge us Internationally renowned painter David Salle's incisive essay collection illuminates these questions by exploring the work of influential twentieth century artists Engaging with a wide range of Salle's friends and contemporaries from painters to conceptual artists such as Jeff Koons John Baldessari Roy Lichtenstein and Alex Katz among others How to See explores not only the multilayered personalities of the artists themselves but also the distinctive character of their oeuvres Salle writes with humor and verve replacing the jargon of art theory with precise and evocative descriptions that help the reader develop a personal and intuitive engagement with art The result a master class on how to see with an artist's eye
