Day Carean Emerging Crisis:

Listening to Silences : New Essays in Feminist Criticism Elaine Hedges Professor of English and Director of Women's Studies Towson State University, Austin Shelley Fisher Fishkin Professor of American Studies and English University of Texas, 1994-09-22

Who Will Mind the Baby? Kim England, 2005-08-12 One of the most significant social and economic changes of recent years has been the explosion in the number of mothers in the work place and in paid employment generally Child care policy provision and funding has in no way kept up with this change Who Will Mind the Baby explores how working mothers negotiate their responsibilities in the face of these difficulties The book contrasts the limited child care policies of the United States and Canada with the more advanced situation in Europe and Australia focusing in particular on the coping strategies of working mothers

INNOVATION AND CHANGE IN THE HUMAN SERVICES Nicholas D. Richie, Diane E. Alperin, 2002-01-01 This second edition of Innovation and Change in the Human Services considerably updates and expands the previous volume An overview of the development of human services over the course of the twentieth century culminates in an evolutionary model which illustrates how human services generally progress from an initial individual problem stage to one of considerable governmental involvement and media attention Eight specific human services are discussed in detail hospices for those with life limiting illness continuing care retirement communities services for those with HIV AIDS domestic assault services day care for children services for the homeless lifelong occupational counseling and services for Alzheimer s patients A full chapter is devoted to some of the major events of the last decade of the twentieth century the Clinton Health Care Plan the Welfare Reforms of 1996 and the Oregon Death with Dignity Act The chapter on human services education compares degree programs in human services and social work and suggests a functional approach which would allow the human services worker to move easily from one setting to another due to having mastered a common core curriculum with universal applicability The last chapter deals with human services issues of considerable importance at the start of the twenty first century including the corporatization of human services the privatization of human services Social Security reform and healthcare reform This material is expected to be of use not only to educators and students in the human services but also to policy analysts and health services administrators practitioners who face everyday the challenge of refining adapting the programs they administer study and support

Mothing by Degrees Jillian M. Duquaine-Watson, 2017-05-31 In Mothing by Degrees Jillian Duquaine Watson shows how single mothers pursuing college degrees must navigate a difficult course as they attempt to reconcile their identities as single moms college students and in many cases employees They also negotiate a balance between what they think a good mother should be and what society is telling them and how that affects their choices to go to college and whether to stay in college or not The first book length study to focus on the lives and experiences of single mothers who are college students Mothing by Degrees points out how these women are influenced by dominant American ideologies of motherhood and the institutional parameters of the schools they attend and argues for increased attention to the specific ways in which the choices challenges and opportunities available to mothers are shaped within their specific environments as well as the ways in which mothers help shape those environments
