Stephen Sennott,2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedic of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries

Morgan,Colin Naylor,1987 To strengthen the contemporary focus of this volume we have added about forty architects and have deleted some whose activity ceased before World War II In making these decisions we have been assisted by an Advisory Board As in the first volume we have continued to define the word architect very broadly so as to include planners theorists structural engineers and landscape architects whose work seems to be central to the enterprise of creating habitable spaces in our day Editor's note Kazimir Malevich Rainer Crone,David Moos,1991 Malevich's sudden and startling realization of a non objective way of painting which he termed Suprematism stands as a seminal moment in the history of twentieth century art Rainer Crone and David Moos trace the artist's development from his beginnings in the

Ukraine and early years in Moscow where he was closely involved in the Futurist circle through to the late 1920s and beyond The authors of this book convincingly demonstrate that it is only through a close and sustained reading of Malevich's late and still widely misunderstood painterly oeuvre that his extraordinarily inventive stance can truly be comprehended Crone and

Moos trace the close relationship between Malevich's practice and other contemporary non political revolutions in physics linguistics and poetry They present Malevich as a uniquely creative artist embodying in his work many of the insights and discoveries that define the twentieth century and the condition of modern life
